Manufacturers and Textile Workers Join Growers in Demand for Great Protection.

TEXTILE SITUATION
DECLARED ACUTE

Increase in Wages for Employees of Mills Depends Upon Higher Tariff, Committee Is Told.

Washington, January 30.—(AP)—Cotton growers and manufacturers and textile workers joined hands today in petitioning the house ways and means committee for relief in the new tariff bill it will present to the special session of congress.

Representatives of the manufacturers and workers described unfavorable conditions in the New England textile industry as acute and asked higher duties on fine yarns and cloths. Representative Whittington, democrat, Mississippi, on behalf of growers, sought a duty ranging from 7 to 24 cents a pound, according to length, on long staple cotton, now on the free list.

Situation Is Acute.
Robert Amory, Boston, representing the National Council of American Cotton Manufacturers, declared the situation was particularly acute in the New England states where unemployment conditions are very serious, and that the higher duties requested would enable the manufacturers to compete in the fine goods markets.

He said imports of the finer yarns and cloths represented one-fourth of the domestic production and not only seriously affected domestic prices, but kept profits to little or nothing and tended to force down wages.

Appearing for the United Textile Workers of America, Thomas F. McMahon of New York, pictured conditions among textile workers as deplorable, and asked higher duties on fine cloths as a means of getting relief through their pay envelopes.

He said the average wage of the workers was $16 a week as compared

LELAND STANFORD
PRESIDENT SILENT
ON CABINET RUMOR

Palo Alto, Calif., January 30.—(United News.)—Repetition of reports that Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Leland Stanford university, had been selected by President-elect Hoover as his secretary of interior failed tonight to bring comment from Dr. Wilbur.

"I do not care to say anything about it," the president of Hoover's Alma Mater said.

A prediction that Dr. Wilbur would be given the post was first heard here last week and contained the assumption that he would receive a leave of absence on March 4, the date of the inauguration.

"I have not received a leave of absence," the Stanford leader said. He was asked if he anticipated one in the near future.

"I could not say as to that," he replied.

Opera Season Head

G. A. BALDINI.

BALDINI IS NAMED
OPERA MANAGER

Noted Musical Figure Will Have Charge of Metropolitan Season in Atlanta This Spring.

G. A. Baldini, of New York, St. Louis, Boston, London, Florence and the world of music, is in Atlanta to take a most important role in the civic and musical life of the city.

Mr. Baldini will be general manager for the annual season of Metropolitan Grand opera, which is due to commence on April 22, next. The engagement of Mr. Baldini by the board of directors of the Music Festival association marks a new and important forward step in the handling of Atlanta's annual opera seasons.

Mr. Baldini will have complete charge of all preliminary arrangements for the annual season, which will be held at the Metropolitan and will bring to the local management an experienced and famous professional experience, which will assure for Atlanta the smoothest and most facile handling of the multitudinous problems possible.

A special committee from the board of the Music Festival association, consisting of H. M. Atkinson, president of the association; Charles Howard Candler, vice president and treasurer, and Robert S. Parker, secretary, returned from New York this week, bringing Mr. Baldini with them.

Tentative arrangements for Mr. Baldini's engagement made by this special committee were approved at a full meeting of the board of directors held Tuesday.

Another meeting of the board is scheduled before the end of the week and, it was stated Wednesday by Mr. Candler, after this meeting Mr. Baldini will be prepared to give out for publication the final schedule of operas to be presented here this year, together with the leading artists who will sing, insofar as it can be decided at this time. The announcement of the opera program will be released to the Atlanta papers for Sunday publication, it was stated.

Mr. Baldini was born in Florence, Italy, but was taken to London when

PLEA FOR CRUISER
PROGRAM IS VOICED
BY SENATOR REED

Missouri Senator, in Swan Song, Declares America's First Duty Is To Protect Herself.

Washington, January 30.—(United News.)—James A. Reed, of Missouri, for 18 years the Patrick Henry of the United States senate, made the last oratorical stand of his career today in a plea for the cruiser construction bill.

He is voluntarily retiring from public life at the close of this session on March 4.

The veteran's last big scene was characteristic. It flowed along smoothly with classical allusions and vivid figures of speech but bristled at times with sarcasm and belligerence. Many of his colleagues considered it the greatest oration of his career.

Greatest Ever Made.
Even Senator Brookhart, Iowa, republican, the target for several of Reed's desecrative shots, said the speech was "the greatest ever made by a disciple of the old school."

The burden of Reed's argument was that all the nations of the world are preparing for war, particularly with the United States, and that congress must be ready to defend itself in case of another world war.

Reed advocated immediate adoption of the pending bill which would authorize construction of 15 cruisers and one aircraft carrier within the next three years.

Reading a compilation of figures showing the respective armaments of the great powers Reed shouted:

"Listen, O you dreamers! Listen and you can hear the roar of furnaces which are forging the plates of great battleships! Listen and you will hear the chorus of mighty hammers shaping armor plates!"

ASHLEY TO HEAD
ADVISORY BOARD

Mayor Announces Appointment of Alderman and Expresses Confidence in Finance Group.

Alderman Claude Ashley, of the fourth ward, chairman of the water committee of city council, will head the advisory board to assist the finance committee of city council in pruning requests of department heads for bond funds from the $13,000,000 sought to $8,000,000, the bonding maximum limit of the city, Mayor J. N. Ragdale announced Wednesday.

Mr. Ashley will be assisted by Councilmen J. W. Rountree, of the third ward; Nelson Spratt, of the fourth; James Wells, of the eighth; Fred Wilson, prominent clothier; W. E. Small, official of a local bottling company; and Jerome Jones, editor of the Journal of Labor.

Mayor Approves Group.
In announcing his committee selections, Mayor Ragdale declared he felt he had named a "group in which the people of Atlanta have the utmost confidence and which will discharge the duties of the office in a creditable and most satisfactory manner."

Clarke Donahue, chief of construction, stated Wednesday that he probably will complete his list of requisitions for sewers, streets and bridges by tonight. Practically every other department already has listed its requirements.

Members of the finance committee, headed by Councilman Wiley L. Moore, of the seventh ward, will be assisted in making the cuts necessary to bring the bond requisitions within the $8,000,000 figure.

Work To Start Soon.
Work of the committee group will be begun just as soon as is feasible after all requirements have been filed with B. Graham West, city comptroller.

A difficult task was seen for the committee by city hall observers, but the expediency of a bond issue for prosecution of public improvements is universally recognized as the most feasible manner in which to acquire many needed projects.

Members of the police committee of city council at a meeting Wednesday night asked for $1,000,000 for a new station, police headquarters and a jail.

Requests of various departments Wednesday night were listed as follows:

Schools, $5,000,000; Grady hospital, $2,000,000; auditorium, $1,500,000; parks, $1,000,000; police, $1,000,000; fire, $1,000,000; Battle Hill, $750,000; sanitary, $250,000; Candler hotel, $200,000; Carnegie library, $200,000; city hall, $250,000.

GUERRA ARRESTED
IN SPANISH PLOT

Former Prime Minister Is Captured as Alleged Plot to Overthrow de Rivera Fails.

BY JOHN DEGANOT.

Madrid, January 30.—(United News.)—Sanchez Guerra, former prime minister of Spain, who was overthrown five years ago by Primo de Rivera, was arrested at Valencia today in connection with the military revolt which was suppressed Tuesday night, less than 24 hours after a regiment of artillery seized barracks at Ciudad Real.

Primo de Rivera, Spanish dictator, announced that the outbreak at Ciudad Real was the only event partly successful uprising in a plot which he said extended throughout Spain. He named Guerra as one of the leaders.

Guerra arrived secretly at Valencia by boat Tuesday and went immediately to the barracks of the fifth regiment of artillery there, the United News correspondent at that city reported today. The former prime minister asked officers if all was ready "for the big coup."

The officers informed him that nothing had been heard of such a movement. Guerra left immediately but his presence was reported to police, who promptly arrested him.

London, January 30.—(United News.)—The Daily News said today that it understood the engagement of the Duke of Gloucester, third son of King George, would be announced shortly.

The newspaper said it was believed the duke was engaged to Lady Angela Scott, daughter of the Duke and Duchess of Buccleugh. The Daily News understood that the announcement had been delayed because of King George's illness.

LIFE OF LEBOUF
IN JUDGE'S HANDS

Federal District Jurist Studying Over Plea To Halt Execution of Pair Condemned to Hang.

New Orleans, January 30.—(AP)—The lives of Mrs. Ada Bonner Leboeuf and Dr. Thomas E. Dreher tonight were in the hands of Wayne G. Borah, judge of the federal district court and youthful nephew of United States Senator William E. Borah.

He is expected to make known his decision tomorrow whether he will stop the executions of the man and woman sentenced to be hanged Friday for the murder of the woman's husband, or whether he will reject their pleas and send the defense counsel scurrying to the federal circuit court of appeals.

Defense counsel, headed by B. J. Daly, urged the court to grant a writ of habeas corpus to postpone the executions until arguments could be produced on whether the prisoners were allowed their constitutional rights for a fair and impartial trial. He claimed the jury was intimidated by the courtroom crowd and that two jurors had made affidavits to this effect. The lawyer further argued that his clients were at present insane and should not be hanged as the Louisiana law prohibits the hanging of insane.

Attorney Daly offered to produce authorities on the points raised and Judge Borah requested the references for his study tonight. He intimated he would hand down his decision sometime tomorrow.

If the lawyers lose all along the line they plan to continue the battle right up to the hour of hanging and the last stages probably would be before the justices of the United States supreme court.

While the lawyers argue their case, Mrs. Leboeuf and Dr. Dreher are variously described as "babbling idiots," in a state of collapse and as facing their doom in dumb stoniness. As the time approaches, Sheriff Pecos is again making preliminary arrangements for his stern task of hanging the first white woman in Louisiana and an old family physician who has been jerked from a pedestal of respect and influence to a condemned murderer's cell.

Gravitation Control
NEW THEORY IS OFFERED SCIENTISTS
Is Seen by Einstein

Berlin, January 30.—(United News.)—A little six-page pamphlet which sells for a quarter was presented to the public today under the signature of Professor Albert Einstein, who believes that the equations and "identities" set forth in this work will be of almost greater importance than his "theory of relativity" of 1915.

Under present plans, Mr. Coolidge will be met at Mountain Lake by a committee and escorted to the sanctuary. The dedication ceremonies will follow, after which he will inspect the tower and its carillon of 61 bells and then go to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bok for tea and rest. After an informal family dinner at the Bok home the party will board their special train for the return to Washington, arriving here Saturday evening.

The journey will be Mr. Coolidge's first formal visit to Florida, although he passed through it while going to and from the Pan-American conference in Havana a year ago.

It is expected, too, that it will be his last journey away from the capital as chief executive of the nation. He has been considering an invitation to attend a celebration at Vincennes, Ind., February 25, but has virtually decided that the press of public business so near the end of his term will be too great.

Previously explained by Professor Einstein, the present work arrives at a unified theory for both gravitational forces and electro-magnetism, formulating a single set of laws for control of both forces to replace the previously accepted separate laws. There are 16 equations and so-called "identities" in the new work which is highly technical and intelligible only to scholars.

The modest preface of one short paragraph declares that Professor Einstein previously had attempted solution of the problem.

"Difficulties increased during closer study, however," the preface continued.

Now, however, the scientist has succeeded in finding a satisfactory solution of the problem of unifying gravitation and electro-magnetism.

The entire work includes three sections. First Einstein deals with the mathematical preparations; second with deductions and third with the field of equations.

There are 10 years of hard labor behind the pamphlet, Professor Einstein has been hampered by illness during that time, making his work all the more difficult. He believes, his friends said, that this work will be an answer to those who criticized his deductions in the theory of relativity. He has put every step down in hard mathematical facts, eliminating the vagaries which offered targets for his critics before. To a certain extent, the present theory is an elaboration on the earlier relativity theory.

CONTROL OF GRAVITATION BY MAN IS PREDICTED.

Mahoney Accused of Having Previous Knowledge of Crime; Gallogly Reads Statement to Jury.

JURY IS EXPECTED

Gallogly Denies That He Participated in Holdup, Saying He Was There Only To Dissuade Harsh

Acquittal of Dick Gallogly on the ground that he sought to dissuade his alleged accomplice, George Harsh, from committing the holdup which led to the murder of Willard H. Smith was asked late Wednesday afternoon by Sam D. Hewlett of Gallogly's defense counsel in the first of final arguments to the jury hearing the trial of Gallogly before Superior Judge Virlyn B. Moore.

"Dick Gallogly is guilty of only one crime, that of concealment of the crime of his friend, Harsh," Attorney Hewlett said in the only plea heard thus far in the case. "He tried his best to keep the friend he loved from committing this great wrong and failed. In recompense he finds himself confronted with the same charge on which Harsh was accused. He is not guilty. He had no intention of doing wrong and I ask his immediate freedom at your hands."

Gallogly Reads Statement.
Opening of the final argument came shortly before 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon after a day marked with several climaxes, a day in which the state used its star witness against the youth and a day which saw Gallogly take the stand and read to the jury a long, unsworn statement in which he pictured Harsh as the murderer of the man for whose death Harsh now is awaiting execution. Gallogly accused the state's star witness, Jack Mahoney, of having previous knowledge of the crime and like him assisting Harsh in fleeing the scene of the murder, aiding in obtaining medical assistance for Harsh, wounded in a gun duel with Smith, and helping to keep the murder of Smith concealed from all save a few who assisted the wounded boy.

Gallogly denied that he was a participant in the attempted holdup of the drug store and that he only went to the door while trying to dissuade Harsh from robbing the place. He stated that "I had no part in his (Smith's) killing," and that the drug store manager would "be living today if George Harsh had heeded my advice and . . . come back with me when I pulled him by the arm and

Secretary of Treasury Raps Dry Fund Increase As House Begins Action

Deficiency Bill To Be Sent to Senate for Conference Over Differences, Committee Votes.

Washington, January 30.—(AP)—While the $24,000,000 prohibition proposal has drawn a new front from Secretary Mellon, the house prepared today to consider the question tomorrow.

A parliamentary tangle that developed yesterday during initial discussion of the subject was smoothed out by the house rules committee which decided to submit a resolution to send the deficiency bill to conference with the senate for agreement over differences. The proposed appropriation is embodied in this bill and the resolution is subject to a vote of the house.

To Debate Action. Representative Tilson, of Connecticut, the majority leader, said today that when the resolution was called up tomorrow he would be holding the house to debate the question more fully than is customary. Supporters of the $24,000,000 expenditure have been insisting on a direct vote on the proposal and house leaders believe the vote on the resolution will satisfy this demand.

While the rules committee was working on this problem a letter from Secretary Mellon to Chairman Anthony of the house appropriations committee was made public. The treasury head reiterated in this communication that he regarded the proposal to put $24,000,000 in the hands of the president for prohibition enforcement as one which would not accomplish the purpose desired.

Mellon's criticism. The secretary said that under the terms of the senate amendment, the funds would not be available for any purpose except that of increasing the personnel of the bureau of prohibition and the department of justice, and added that the money could not be used for an educational campaign or for other incidental expenses.

Some of the members confidently predicted adoption of the rules committee resolution to send the measure to conference. Republicans generally, wet and dry alike, were supporting the move, while the democrats bolstered by a few wavering republicans, were aligning themselves in opposition.

Democrats Doubt Power. Doubt was expressed by some of the democrats, however, that they would be able to command a sufficient number of votes to beat the resolution. If they should defeat it, the deficiency bill automatically would be sent back to the appropriations committee which would later bring it to the floor for debate.

This, the democrats say, would give full and free discussion to the measure on the floor with a separate vote on each of the amendments. This is what they have been contending for.

The difficulty developed in the house yesterday when Representative Wood, of Indiana, the ranking republican on the appropriation committee, sought to have the measure sent to conference. His proposal was met by a move by Representative Garner, of Texas, one of the democratic leaders, to have full debate on the prohibition and tax refund provisions with a vote on each.

The arguments over the two proposals led to a parliamentary impasse which resulted in an adjournment of the house to enable its rules committee to decide a course of procedure.

PRESBYTERIAN-M. E. UNION AGREED UPON

Pittsburgh, Pa., January 30.—(AP)—A definite agreement that the Presbyterian Church of the United States and the Methodist Episcopal Church of America should unite was reached here today at a conference of commissioned representatives of the two churches, the Rev. Eugene M. Antrim, Oklahoma City secretary of the joint committee, announced. The two denominations have a membership of 6,000,000.

Devising of a plan which might also serve for future alliance with other denominations, and its adoption by the Presbyterian general assembly and the Methodist Episcopal general assembly are steps toward union to be expected later, Rev. Antrim said.

"Our beliefs, our doctrines, in fact everything about the two denominations are so similar that union is almost inevitable," he declared. The announcement followed a day of discussion between members of the Presbyterian department of churches cooperation and union, headed by Dr. J. Ross Stevenson, of Princeton, N. J., and the Methodist Episcopal committee on relations with other denominations, headed by Bishop Herbert Welch, of Pittsburgh.

The Presbyterian officials also met with officials of the United Presbyterian church for what Dr. Stevenson declared to be a resumption of informal discussions looking toward an alliance between the two denominations. The United Presbyterian denomination has a membership of approximately 1,000,000 and has national headquarters here.

The ultimate origination of the plan for union of the Presbyterian and Methodist Episcopal denominations was regarded by conference leaders as the task of a joint committee as suggested by Rev. Dr. Joseph A. Vance, of Detroit. Today's conference, which was closed to the public, was attended by high church officials from Chicago, Detroit, Buffalo, New York, Baltimore, Columbus, Washington and Philadelphia.

The conference was the result of a resolution adopted at the Methodist Episcopal conference in Kansas City last year looking to a union with the Presbyterians. It later was sent to the Presbyterian general assembly at Tulsa, Okla.

M. Vernon Little, of Chicago, general traffic manager for the Interstate Air Lines, will be in Atlanta for several days this week to supervise opening of offices here for handling the company's operations in this district. It was announced Wednesday by J. D. Price, recently appointed district traffic manager.

The offices will be formally opened today at 701 Glenn building. Arrangements will be made for a complete information bureau to be reached at Walnut 4775, where full data pertaining to schedules between Atlanta and Chicago passenger and air mail service, and connecting links to the west coast, can be obtained, Mr. Price said.

FAMOUS NEGRO TENOR TO SING HERE FRIDAY

Roland Hayes, famous negro tenor, will reach Atlanta early Friday morning, ready for the recital he is to give that night at the auditorium. Hayes, a Georgia-born negro, and now one of the most marvelous tenor singers of the age, the object of enthusiastic applause in the music centers of America and Europe alike, will be welcomed back to his home state by a special committee of leading colored citizens who will endeavor to express the great pride they feel in his achievements.

Seats for the Friday night concert are on sale at two box offices, one for that half of the auditorium which has been reserved for white and one for the colored patrons' half. Although the huge size of the auditorium assures everyone good location, reports from both seat sales Wednesday night indicated one of the biggest concert crowds in Atlanta's history for the Friday night event.

White patrons' seats are on sale at Cable Piano company, while the colored reservation on sale at Yates & Milton pharmacy on Auburn avenue.

Hayes' program, announced Wednesday by S. Russell Bridges, president of the Southern Musical bureau, is divided into four sections. The first consists of three Italian numbers in bel canto; the second includes four songs by German composers of the romantic school; the third is taken from the English songs of Elizabethan days, while the fourth contains those negro spirituals for which Hayes is acclaimed the greatest of all living exponents.

GEORGIA "U" GLEE CLUB TO VISIT ATLANTA ON TRIP

Athens, Ga., January 30.—(Special).—The University of Georgia Glee and Instrumental club will leave on its annual road trip immediately after Easter, it has been announced.

The glee club consists of 38 men and Armand Eyer, Savannah, is its president. There are 12 places on the instrumental club and its president is Buck Weaver, of Savannah. Hugh Hodgson, head of the music department of the University of Georgia, is director of the clubs and will accompany them on the trip.

Cities of larger size than heretofore visited by the club are included on this year's itinerary. The club will appear in Savannah, Atlanta, Augusta, Columbus, Albany, Valdosta, Brunswick, and possibly a few cities of Florida.

of the southeastern branches of the large mail order concern.

While having spent only two days on this trip in the south so far, General Wood stated, when interviewed at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel Wednesday night, that conditions met with en route to Atlanta have been entirely satisfactory. He declined to make any broad prediction of the future, but indicated that his company was thoroughly confident of developments to be held forth in the south.

To Remain Until Friday. The president of the huge mercantile establishment will remain here until Friday, when he intends to proceed to Augusta, where the company maintains a retail branch, returning from there to Atlanta via Athens, before completing the annual inspection tour.

General Wood on this trip was met in Chattanooga by L. H. Beall, general manager of the Atlanta mail or-

OBOY BREAD

BOYS and girls have helped to make Obboy bread one of the most popular loaves in town—within just a few weeks. That's because it was dedicated expressly to them. But now Obboy belongs to all the family. They've discovered that it is always fresh and flavorful—that its flaky crust and creamy center are unlike any other bread. They're eating it at every meal—as you will when you try it. Your grocer has it.

GALLOGLY ACQUITTAL
ASKED BY HEWLETT

tried to get him from entering the drug store."

Attorney Hewlett opened the arguments after Mahoney had been recalled to the stand and used as the state's only rebuttal witness in answer to the defendant's statement. Four hours were granted for each side for arguments. Mr. Hewlett concluded shortly before 7 o'clock Tuesday night, at which time adjournment was taken until 9 o'clock this morning.

Stephens to Open for State.

Assistant Solicitor-General Ed A. Stephens will make the opening argument for the state, he being followed by Solicitor-General John A. Boykin in the state's final appeal. Reuben Arnold, chief of defense counsel, will make the final argument for Gallogly. By virtue of the defense having offered no testimony other than the unsworn statement of the accused, his counsel obtained the right to make both the opening and closing arguments.

According to schedule, arguments should be completed by the middle of this afternoon's session. Judge Moore's charge will follow and the fate of the defendant is expected to be in the jury's hands by 4 o'clock.

With acquittal as his cry Mr. Hewlett fired the first argumentative gun for the defense by relentlessly flaying the evidence given by Mahoney. Bluntly stating the young witness as a "liar," the attorney sought to impeach his testimony point by point and advanced Gallogly's statement to the jury as the true account of the happenings on the night of Smith's murder.

Mr. Hewlett's broad denunciation of the man "upon whose evidence the state seeks to convict little Dick Gallogly" brought many subdued gasps and murmurs from the crowded room. Early in his argument the lawyer, seeking to show that Mahoney had turned state's evidence to save himself, unhesitatingly compared Mahoney to a "rat running from a burning barn." Thereafter, he frequently alluded to the boy's testimony as "deliberate lying."

This attack on Mahoney's evidence was followed by a detailed summarizing of the statement made by Gallogly and an attempt to show at almost every point how the evidence given by state's witnesses bore out the account of the defendant.

Turns To Jury.

After a few minutes occupied in quoting references in regard to the prisoner's right of statement, the jury's right to recommend and the question of guilt when two persons are involved in a killing the defense attorney turned to the jury for the argument proper.

He immediately declared the official position of himself and his colleagues by asking for a complete acquittal for the defendant.

This question disposed of he turned promptly and vigorously to the attack on Mahoney's account of the case. Claiming that the state's case lies entirely on the testimony of Mahoney, he proceeded to attempt to discredit this evidence.

Intimacy of Pair.

The intimacy of Harsh and Mahoney as roommates was advanced as evidence that Mahoney certainly knew of Harsh's crimes if he did not actually participate in them.

He then turned to the night of the murder and detailed the manner in which the fatal expedition started from the fraternity house at Oglethorpe. Harsh, he claimed, suggested to Mahoney that they go riding in Gallogly's car and take Dick along.

Then, he maintained, when passing McRobert's pharmacy Harsh told Mahoney to turn down Eighth street and claim Mahoney to stop without Gallogly's suggestion. He ridiculed the claim of Mahoney that he "thought Dick and George were going to get some girls" and that "Harsh told me to drive around and meet them later."

Mr. Hewlett boldly and unequivocally advanced his belief that Mahoney and Harsh planned the robbery and that Mahoney waited in the drug store for the holdup and cited in proof of that Gallogly's statement that Mahoney's first statement when his companions returned to the car after the shooting was "How much money did you get, George?"

Events After Shooting.

He then followed the events of the hours after the shooting and declared Mahoney's denials that he saw Wright cut Harsh's clothes off, and even knew of this action were disproved by the evidence of Wright. He also cited as evidence of a guilty conscience that Mahoney, when calling Sutton, said, "This is Dick Gallogly calling," and claimed that this was borne out by Sutton's testimony.

The contention that Mahoney and not Gallogly cut the identification marks from Harsh's shirt and underwear also was made by the counsel. Next he told of Mahoney's trip to police headquarters soon after Harsh's arrest and charged that from that moment Mahoney was acting in fear of his own safety and aiding the state in its attempt to convict Gallogly as Harsh's accomplice.

Corroboration of Statement.

Then turning to Gallogly's statement, he followed it through and attempted to show how each point was corroborated by state's evidence. His position outside the store was verified by Owens' testimony and his claim that he had wanted to sell his pistol was verified by Sutton and the statement that he had no gun in his hand also was verified, at least by inference, by the evidence of Owens.

He discounted the statement of the negro messenger boy that he had been struck across the head with a pistol in Gallogly's hands by pointing out that the negro's wound was on the right side of his head, whereas Gallogly was standing to the left of the door as the boy ran out. The negro's story was for the "sake of getting damages," the attorney maintained.

He next dwelled on the matter of Gallogly's contention that Mahoney, after the crime, told him of having done several "jobs" with Harsh and that he once tried to get Harsh to hold up a small country bank near Rome.

Force for Good.

Stressing Gallogly's statement that he tried to dissuade Harsh from the robbery, he drew him as a force for good, acting against Harsh and Mahoney and concluded this angle of attack by declaring that "Jack Mahoney is as guilty in this crime as is George Harsh."

Then with a final plea for the jury to believe Gallogly as "the real truth" of the night's happenings as opposed to Mahoney's "lying statements," he asked that Dick Gallogly be sent free from the courtroom as an innocent man who was caught in the web of circumstance.

Heiress Who Won Race
GIRL TO BECOME CAPITALIST'S BRIDE
Across U. S. To Marry

Indianapolis, Ind., January 30.—(AP) Having announced their intention to marry tomorrow, Miss Ruth McConnell, 27-year-old music and art student

The couple obtained a license yesterday, but could not be located today. Miss McConnell last December fled by train from Rochester, N. Y., to San Francisco, pursued by Dr. D. O. Meeker in an airplane. The girl won the race when the physician's airplane was forced down in Nevada. Apparently Dr. Meeker had been commissioned to follow the young woman.

Conflicting reports as to the reasons for the race were given at the time. Henry Earl McConnell, the girl's father, who is a resident of Indianapolis, gave out a statement that the young woman was in poor health.

Today nothing could be divulged as to the contemplated marriage, a statement Gallogly's father, who knew nothing about it and that neither Miss McConnell nor Mr. Coulter was there.

Miss McConnell appeared at the marriage license clerk's office late yesterday with Coulter, riding in a block wheel chair and accompanied by two attendants and Mr. and Mrs. McConnell.

The young woman said they expected to be married Thursday by the "Rev. Roberts, who does not live here."

Coulter seemed to be very nervous, it was said.

Neighbors said Miss McConnell came here about a week ago and she appeared to be in good health and was very cheerful.

On December 20 Major McConnell, the girl's father, on his arrival here from Berkeley, Calif., gave out a statement that his daughter had been in poor health. He said Dr. Meeker, a Rochester specialist, had been ordered by relatives to follow Miss McConnell, as they were "worried about her nervous condition."

Mrs. McConnell said Coulter was a friend of the family and had been interested in the condition of the girl.

Major McConnell is connected with the National Surety company.

George Harsh, Jack Mahoney and I were taking a ride in my car. We were not going anywhere in particular, but riding around for pleasure. Mahoney was driving the car. We were not going to meet any girls, and when Mahoney spoke of "meeting girls" I said that he was badly hurt. I got him by the arm to help him and support him to the automobile. He said that before he had done anything in the store, that Mr.

Drove Into Eighth Street.

"In the course of our driving we drove out Boulevard, intending to go home. When we got to Eighth street, where the McRobert's pharmacy is, George Harsh said, 'Turn into Eighth street,' and Mahoney did so, and when we had driven about a block or two down Eighth street, George Harsh asked Mahoney to stop the car. Mahoney stopped the car and George Harsh said, 'I am going to get out and rob that drug store.' Mahoney said, 'I will wait here.' I asked George not to do it.

"Harsh got out of the car and I followed him and begged him to get back into the car. He walked on up towards the drug store, however, and I went with him, pleading with him to come back and not to do it. I went with him to the door of the drug store, and before he went into the drug store I caught him by the arm, trying to pull him back. He jerked away from me and went on in any way.

"As for killing anybody, I do not believe that George had it in mind to kill anyone. My purpose in going with him was solely to get him to turn back, and I hoped to the very last that I could get him to do so.

"I had no intention of taking any part in the robbery. When I caught George by the arm at the drug store he pulled away from me and went in. And while I was standing on the outside near the door, and in less time than it takes to tell it, I heard a shot from a small caliber pistol. Then I heard two shots from a large caliber pistol. I could not see into the drug store. I noticed a little negro come running out of the drug store and across the street. The statement that I struck this negro with a pistol or anything else is entirely false. I never touched him. I could not have hit him with a pistol because I did not have one with me.

Denies Statements.

"I afterward learned from George that he had my pistol and had taken it out of the pocket of my car before he left the car. The statement of Mr. Kirkpatrick that I hid in the door is not true. I do not think that Mr. Kirkpatrick or anyone in the store saw me, because when I pulled George by the arm to get him not to go into the store he pulled away from me and I drew back. I want to say that at the jail one day, I was carried out with a number of other persons to be identified by several people. When I got out, Detective John Lowe, in company with Jailer Bob Holland, brought

A Message to Underweight Men and Women

The one supremely good health-building tonic that is also the one great weight producer known to modern science the country over is McCoy's Tablets.

Take them for a few weeks and the hollows in your cheeks, your neck and chest should soon fill out and whether you be man or woman you may have an attractive figure and plenty of "get there" energy in just a short time.

Many times the increase in weight is astonishing—one exceedingly thin woman gained 19 pounds in 22 days. McCoy takes all the risk—Read this ironclad guarantee: If after taking 4 six-cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or 2 One Dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your money will be returned.

Just ask for McCoy's Tablets at Jacobs' drug store or any drug store in America.—(adv.)

Following is the text of Dick Gallogly's statement:

"I met George Harsh in June of last year. I was then 18 years old and became 19 in September. Harsh was a little older than I was. We went around together. Harsh was very attractive and I liked him very much. He talked a great deal about his adventures and experiences in Milwaukee and the boys admired him. Jack Mahoney and a number of other boys were among our companions. Jack Mahoney and Harsh were roommates at Oglethorpe university. I lived with my grandmother, Mrs. James R. Gray, on Peachtree road, which is about five miles this side of Oglethorpe.

"I regret that we got into the habit of drinking, and I will say now that when this trouble occurred we were drinking. I am satisfied that but for his drinking George Harsh would never have gone into the McRobert's drug store.

"On the night of October 16, these people, including Mr. Kirkpatrick, into the corridor to identify me.

"They looked us over and I heard Mr. Holland say that no one there could or did identify me. Also Mr. John Lowe, the detective, was present and knows this.

"Coming back to the drug store, I want to say that when I went with Harsh to the store that night, I had no pistol or weapon of any kind with me. I did not want to harm anybody and I tried my best to keep Harsh from robbing the store. I would not have killed Mr. Smith for anything in the world, nor would I have done him any harm. I had no intention to kill him, or to hurt him, or to rob him, and the only reason I had in going near that door was to urge and talk George Harsh out of robbing that store.

"Did Not See Shooting."

"I did not see the shooting, but as I have stated I heard the shots, and distinctly heard the smaller pistol fire first. When George Harsh came out of the drug store, I saw that he was badly hurt. I got him by the arm to help him and support him to the automobile. He said that before he had done anything in the store, that Mr.

Smith had shot him and that what firing he did was in defense of his own life. This is all that I know about that part of it.

"While I was taking George to the automobile he handed me my pistol which he said he had taken out of the pocket in the door of the car, where I occasionally kept it. George had borrowed this pistol from me before.

"I want to say here that this pistol was found by the police in my car at Athens when I was arrested. I had gone to Athens to attend the Georgia-Tulane football game. I had taken a long trip through the country and I was going to take a long trip back that night and I carried the pistol along simply for protection as I have occasionally done before, and that was my only purpose in having it.

"George knew that I carried this pistol in the pocket in the door of that car, and that is where he told me he had gotten it from before we went to the drug store. George told me that his sister, Mrs. Dismore, had taken his pistol from him and hidden it so he couldn't find it.

"When we got back to the car the first thing that Mahoney said was

GOVERNOR APPOINTS TAX COMMISSIONERS

Special Body Will Try To Solve Assessment Prob- lems of State.

Governor L. G. Hardman on Wednesday appointed a special state tax commission and called the new body to meet in his office at the state capitol on February 15 for organization purposes.

The new commission will make a complete investigation of the tax situation in Georgia prior to the convening of the 1929 legislative session next June. It is proposed by the governor that this body may, by that time, be ready to offer a solution to the taxation problem which has been one of the most pressing questions before the state lawmakers for a number of years.

Governor Hardman, in his official order, termed taxation "the most vital problem facing the people of Georgia," and declared that "a solution of this difficult question is essential to the welfare and progress of the state."

Legislators on Commission.
The special commission consists of two members of the state senate, three members of the house of representatives, the state tax commissioner and 16 prominent citizens from the state at large.

In his statement Governor Hardman asked specifically that, after investigating the existing revenue system and its administrative machinery, the commission make suggestions for equitable distribution of the tax burden, the reaching of property now escaping its fair share of taxation and greater efficiency and economy in tax collection.

It was also requested that the commission finish its work in time for its report to be printed and a copy mailed to each member of the general assembly at least 30 days in advance of the convening of the legislature. The governor also stated that no funds were available for this special work and the commission would be expected to serve without compensation.

SAFETY COUNCIL NAMES CHAIRMEN OF COMMITTEES

Committee chairmen of the Atlanta Safety Council for the current year were announced by President E. Stevens, following the regular meeting Wednesday. They are Richard Dean, chairman statistical committee; John F. Dancy, chairman membership committee; J. H. Johnston, chairman, and J. L. Wells, vice chairman, traffic committee, and Judge Shepard Bryan, chairman enforcement committee.

Tribute to the late James A. Holloman, associate editor of The Constitution, was paid by the organization in appointment of a special committee to draw up a resolution of sympathy for the passing of the journalist.

FIVE STILL SEIZED, TWO ARRESTS MADE BY PROHIBITION AGENTS

Federal prohibition agents in this district have destroyed five stills, confiscated two automobiles and made two arrests in the past few days, according to reports received Wednesday by H. P. Wright, deputy prohibition administrator.

Acting on information that whisky would be delivered to an Adair street address, agents stationed themselves to watch and arrested Ed Carlton, who had one quart of whisky in his pocket, the report of the incident stated, and four quarts and fifteen pints of whisky in the car. Three quarts of red whisky and one gallon of corn were found in a coupe at the corner of Juniper and Ponce de Leon. No arrest was made. Both cars were turned over to city authorities.

Distilleries destroyed included four stills ranging in size from 20 to 85 gallons capacity, more than 5,000 gallons of mash, 18 fermenters and a quantity of whisky and whisky making material. Raids were made in Lumpkin county, Rockdale, Fayette and Spalding.

CONVICT CAPTURED

Fugitive Georgia Prisoner Arrested in Detroit, Mich.

D. W. Watson, escaped Georgia convict, has been captured in Detroit, according to advices received at the office of the state prison commission. Instructions to hold Watson, together with a warrant for his arrest, were sent Wednesday to Edward H. Fox, chief of detectives of the Michigan city.

Watson was convicted in Richmond county on charges of assault to murder and burglary and received two sentences, one of seven and one of 11 years. He escaped from the Bibb county penitentiary on November 22, 1927. He is a white man, about 35 years old.

An officer will be sent from Georgia to bring him back.

Frigidaire Heads Here To Attend Southeastern Convention Today

Here are three of Frigidaire's official party from Dayton, Ohio, headquarters, who arrived here Wednesday to attend today's southeastern Frigidaire sales convention. Left to right, S. A. Long, Wichita Frigidaire distributor and convention orator; J. A. Harlan, sales manager, and R. F. Callaway, a native Georgian, vice president.

With 30 leading officials of the company on hand from Dayton, Ohio, Frigidaire's southeastern selling force was gathered in Atlanta Wednesday in preparation for the annual one-day convention to be held today at the Forsyth theater and the Ansley hotel. More than 600 salesmen are expected to be in attendance.

The official party from Dayton headquarters arrived by train Wednesday morning, headed by E. G. Biechler, president; R. F. Callaway, vice president of Frigidaire, and J. A. Harlan, sales manager; E. D. Doty, advertising manager, and others high in Frigidaire ranks. C. F. Kettering, vice president of General Motors in charge of research, motored to the city to participate in the convention.

Today's elaborate convention program includes business sessions at the Forsyth theater, exhibits at the Ansley in special settings shipped here from New York, and a tremendous banquet on the Ansley roof at night. In addition to speeches by officials, the banquet program will be featured by an entertainment program staged by professional Broadway talent.

The officials who arrived Wednesday declared that Frigidaire sales have shown substantial increase during the past several months as compared to corresponding periods of the year previous, and that the south is rapidly becoming one of the company's most valuable and fruitful markets.

"There is no doubt that the south is the coming section of the country," Mr. Harlan said. "Its climate and industrial advantages promise tremendous development, and already the section's purchasing power is growing by leaps and bounds. To show our attitude toward the south, we are holding three of our annual conventions in this section this year instead of the one held here last year."

OFFER CANTATA

Presbyterian Church Group To Present Drama Sunday.

Presentation of "The Woman of Sychar," colorful cantata by R. S. Stoughton, will be offered at 6 o'clock Sunday evening by the choir of the First Presbyterian church, it was announced Wednesday. The sacred musical drama is rich in Oriental harmony and rhythm and is said to provide an excellent vehicle for soprano, alto, tenor and bass soloists as well as the mixed chorus.

The cantata will be directed by Dr. Charles A. Sheldon, well known orator. The public has been invited to attend the performance.

Catarrh Is Most Common Cause of Colds and Flu

Find a man, woman or child who is afflicted with chronic catarrh of the nose and its connecting air passages and you will always find a patient who is most susceptible to more serious diseases. Why? Science explains that catarrh interferes with natural breathing thus preventing proper oxygenation and purification of the blood by the lungs and also absolutely prevents restful, refreshing sleep. Catarrh is a constant drain upon the nutrition of the body, making the patient weak and thereby susceptible to all germ infections such as colds, flu, pneumonia, etc.

Your physician will tell you that catarrh is a local condition, not a systemic disease. You must fight it constantly with a local remedy that reaches the spot. Of the many remedies that have been tested for the relief of catarrh, none has given such uniformly successful results to the physician or attained such popular favor as the prescription of Dr. Runyon, known to your druggist as Runyon's White Wonder Salve. Applied in the nostrils, morning and night, "White Wonder" gives quick and most delightful relief. Clean, graceless and absolutely stainless, White Wonder is a perfect example of the finest pharmaceutical art—a joy and comfort to everyone who suffers with nasal catarrh.

Ask your druggist for WHITE WONDER today or mail thirty-five cents for a family jar, postpaid. White Wonder Chemical Company, 51 Greil Bldg., Montgomery, Ala. Our Slogan—"Perfect satisfaction or your money back."—(adv.)

ENFORCEMENT COSTS FOR GAME LAWS CUT

Department of Game and Fish Reveal Progress in State Work.

Georgia's per capita expenditures for law enforcement of her game laws, and education and conservation work for the fish and wild life of the state, was lower in 1928 than any other state in the southeast, it is revealed in a statement of itemized expenses of the state department of game and fish, which is now being printed in booklet form.

This state spent, during the twelve months, $116,865.32, or .038 cents per capita, on its game and fish department. All this revenue is secured through the sale of licenses to hunters, the department receiving no direct appropriation for this purpose. The next lowest state on per capita cost was Alabama, with a figure of .05 cents. Florida is the highest, with .32 cents per capita. Texas spent the largest total amount, $414,606.62, with South Carolina lowest, with $88,321.05. Georgia, in total spent, ranked next to lowest with $116,865.32. Commissioner Peter S. Twitty, in releasing the report Wednesday, drew attention to two far-reaching features of the year's work, propagation of game birds and fish, including deer, Mexican quail and a new fish hatchery at Summerville, and the educational work done through booklets, the newspapers of the state, schools, clubs, and so forth.

Doctor Recovers.

Dr. John L. Smeltzer, who was injured in an automobile accident last November, has recuperated his health after being confined to the hospital and residence for three months, and has returned to his office, it was learned Wednesday.

"The eczema I had was of a wet nature. It first started with a terrible itching and burning, and red-looking pimples broke out all over my body. When I scratched it, it became very sore, and I had to wear my clothes very loose. At night I could hardly sleep for the terrible itching and burning.

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and got relief, and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Mae Singleton, Coolsburg, Ky., June 21, 1928.

Capt. George Fried, heroic rescuer, says: "Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet."

"AN S.O.S. from the 'Florida'! We change our course. We on the 'America' strain to arrive in time to rescue the men on their sinking ship, 350 miles away. Through the icy, freezing storm and high seas we plunge on—all speed ahead! Then the night-time rescue, the search lights, the whirling waves, the manoeuvring to get near the 'Florida'. Finally, the 'Florida's' crew coming off one at a time, pulling themselves through the water on the line our men had thrown them.

"These 32 men, dazed, many half clothed, needed reviving after their long exposure. Hot coffee, food and Lucky Strikes—these gave new life to many of them and we on board the 'America,' crew and passengers alike, found after the strain and struggle that there was nothing quite so comforting and relaxing as the inviting, toasted flavor of Lucky Strikes.

"Playing this game with 'Davy' is ever fascinating, ever thrilling. And we who follow the sea must be ever ready for adventure. Ours is an active life, demanding nerve control and physical fitness. In my health program I have found that Luckies are most important not only because they provide a respite for frazzled nerves and an exhausted body but because whenever I crave anything which is over-fattening, I say to myself, 'Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet'. In the toasted flavor of Luckies, I get complete satisfaction. And I find that toasting, by removing the irritants, protects my throat."

MORE THAN 500 WILL ATTEND CIVIC DINNER

Two Assembly Halls Needed for Annual Chamber Banquet Guests.

Reservations for the sixty-third annual dinner meeting of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce tonight have passed the 500 mark, it was announced Wednesday by Judge Shepard Bryan, general chairman of the arrangements committee, and two assembly halls have been provided to take care of the crowd.

The dinner is scheduled to begin at 6 o'clock, and early arrivals will be seated in the main assembly hall on the second floor. When this is filled the overflow will be accommodated on the street floor.

Both halls have been elaborately decorated, and interesting programs will be provided for both groups. Rudy Brown's orchestra and the Peerless orchestra have been engaged and there will be several singers.

The principal address will be delivered by Dr. D. W. Daniel, of Clemson college, a nationally famous after-dinner speaker and humorist. Milton

RECOVERY OF THIS WOMAN IS TALK OF ALL HER FRIENDS

"I Just Preach Sargon to Them," Says Mrs. Basin—Troubles of 10 Years Ended, She Says.

"To think that in three weeks time Sargon has rid me of troubles that had defied other treatments for ten years. It seems almost too good to be true; yet it is a simple fact that my husband and my friend will touch for.

"During all this ten years I can hardly remember a time when I didn't suffer terribly from indigestion and nervousness. Sometimes gas would press up around my heart and cause such severe pains that I did not dare even take a long breath. I had no desire for food and I suffered so badly from constipation that I had to be taking laxatives continually.

"Every few days I had a splitting headache and my nerves were so upset that I would roll and toss most all night unable to sleep and in the morning I would feel so exhausted and miserable that I couldn't do my household work without stopping every now and then to rest. I tried every medicine and treatment I heard of but it was no use.

"Then Sargon was suggested to me and just three bottles of this wonderful medicine has put my stomach in perfect condition. Nothing I eat hurts me and my appetite is so good my husband jokingly says I will eat him out of house and home. My nerves are steady as a clock. I sleep the whole night through and get up feeling so rested and strong that I get through my household work without ever thinking about resting. In fact, I am so full of energy I want to be on the go all the time.

"I have gained six pounds in weight and when my friends begin talking about how wonderfully I have been restored I just 'preach' Sargon to them."

The above statement was made a few days ago by Mrs. Alex Bazinet, of 2210 Twenty-Second avenue, Minneapolis.

Scores of people are calling daily at Jacobs' main store, 6 and 8 Marietta street, where a special representative of the Sargon laboratories has established headquarters and is explaining the merits of the celebrated medicine, Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills, which may also be obtained at the other Jacobs' stores all over Atlanta.—(adv.)

Dargan, Jr., retiring president, will briefly review his administration, and Philip H. Alston, the incoming president, will discuss his plans for the coming year. B. S. Barker, executive vice president and secretary, will submit a condensed report of progress in 1928.

YOUTHFUL VICTIM OF AUTO ACCIDENT SLIGHTLY BETTER

Slight improvement in the condition of Harold Dalton, 7-year-old victim of an automobile accident, was reported late Wednesday by Grady hospital physicians. The boy sustained a fractured skull in the accident and is said to be in a serious condition.

The Dalton boy was struck at North avenue and Marietta streets by an automobile driven by O. A. Roddy, of 30 Hollywood road, who told police he was blinded by the glare of the sun. Charges of reckless driving were lodged against Roddy.

"BUZZACOTT" CAR STOPS OVER HERE ON WORLD CRUISE

Rounding out the sixth year of its proposed 10-year world cruise, the famous "Buzzacott" car arrived in Atlanta Wednesday, en route from California to Cuba and points elsewhere. Manning the motor vehicle were the four Spanish and world war veterans who started on the venture a half dozen years ago, including Francis H. Buzzacott, noted and versatile soldier of fortune.

Buzzacott stated that the cruiser would remain in Atlanta for several days before continuing the itinerary, which when completed will have covered 500,000 miles and be terminated at the proposed 1933 Chicago fair, where the car will be exhibited. During the stay here the car will be parked in various sections of the city and will be open for inspection, Mr. Buzzacott stated.

Special features of the vehicle include kitchenette, pantry, storage lockers, gas stove, oven, broiler, refrigerator, fireless cooker, running water, shower bath, toilet, lavatory, dressing room, buffet, wardrobe, electric lights, heater, ceiling, superior beds, table, desk, library, easy arm chair, porch chairs, hunting and camping equipment.

JUNIOR CHAMBER'S HEALTH CAMPAIGN GIVEN APPROVAL

The chamber of commerce, through Philip H. Alston, president, has given hearty endorsement to the Good Health exposition to be sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the auditorium the week of April 8. Mr. Alston's statement, made public Wednesday, follows:

"The Atlanta Chamber of Commerce heartily endorses the Good Health exposition, sponsored by the Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce, to be held at the city auditorium the week of April 18.

"The different committees of the chamber of commerce have given every attention to bringing before our Atlanta people just what good health means.

"It is desired by the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce that the people of Atlanta heartily back the Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce in this undertaking.

9,742 PRISONERS RECEIVED IN 1928 AT FULTON TOWER

Prisoners booked at Fulton Tower during 1928 amounted to 9,742, of which figure 8,687 were county prisoners, 885 federal, and 170 prisoners from outside of Fulton county, according to the annual report of Sheriff James I. Lowry, compiled for the state prison department by Deputy Sheriff Claude Register.

The report shows that negro male adults led the county prison population, with white male adults second. The figures are as follows:

Adults: County U. S. Foreign
White male 3,291 365 136
White female 408 31
Negro male 3,740 377 31
Negro female 1,224 64 3
Total 16 years: 7 9
White male 7 9

GROCERY STORES LOSE CASH, GOODS TO BURGLARY BAND

While city detectives were still looking for the bandits who escaped with $2,000 after dynamiting a safe in a Whitehall street shop early in the week, yegmen were busy in other portions of the city early Wednesday morning.

According to police reports, burglars broke into the Dave Shaffer grocery store, at 240 Piedmont avenue, opened the safe after hammering off the combination, and made away with $145.

At the same time, in a nearby store operated by Broyles, at 192 Courtland street, bandits obtained a quantity of groceries, after breaking into the establishment, opening the empty cash register and rummaging the stock.

35 CONVICTED MEN GO TO FEDERAL PEN

Lexington, Ky., January 30.—(P)—Thirty-five men convicted at the recent term of the federal court here were taken to the Atlanta penitentiary today by Deputy Marshal Flint Davis and a number of assistants. The terms total 68 years and 2 days.

LIGGETT LIVED IN FEAR, HE TELLS MURDER JURY

Accused Denies He Said He Was Not Afraid of Any One in World.

Nashville, Tenn., January 30.—(P)—Walter Liggett lived in fear at the moment he brought death to Turney Cunningham, he testified today just before adjournment of the court trying him on a charge of first degree murder. Cunningham, the manager of a Nashville hotel, was shot to death by Liggett last October, when they met in the rear yard of Cunningham's home.

The end of Liggett's second examination on the witness stand came as Seth Walker, prosecuting attorney began questioning him about the pistol battle during which Cunningham was killed.

Liggett said that he had talked to Mrs. Cunningham at the back door of her home, and that she told him "Some one is watching us." His only thought, Liggett said, was to leave as quickly as possible.

Mrs. Cunningham had testified that Liggett told her that he was not afraid of anyone "in the world," but Liggett denied he said it.

At this point the judge halted the trial, and adjourned until tomorrow, when Liggett will be called to the stand again.

The afternoon's testimony dealt largely with meetings between Liggett and Mrs. Cunningham, and one arranged by Cunningham "to straighten this thing out," Liggett again admitted he had worn a pistol for years, and identified the clothing and pistol he had with him when he and Cunningham fought.

Mrs. Rankin Manley Charges Non-Support In Suit for Divorce

Mrs. Christine McEachern Manley Wednesday filed suit in Fulton superior court for a divorce from Doughty Rankin Manley. Grounds alleged in the petition include cruel treatment and non-support. The petition was filed by Branch & Howard, E. V. Carter, Jr., and Frank Carter.

Several days ago Mrs. Manley was named as the defendant in a slander suit instituted by Mrs. Nora Walker, of 633 Jackson street, N. E. Mrs. Walker alleged that Mrs. Manley came to her home and falsely accused her of having clandestine meetings with Rankin Manley. Mrs. Walker asks for $50,000 in damages.

CREDIT MEN TO RAISE SERVICE STANDARDS

H. D. Carter, treasurer of Dougherty-Little-Bedwine company and chairman of the adjustment bureau committee of the Atlanta Association of Credit Men, entertained members of his committee at dinner Monday at his home, 1184 Springdale road. Present were P. M. Milliams, J. F. Meador, R. L. Attaway, J. H. Sutton, M. E. Hill and C. L. Williamson. After the dinner a business session was called and the committee considered recommendation of Secretary C. L. Williamson for increasing service rendered to members by the adjustment bureau department. The committee approved the recommendations and formal announcement will be made at the February meeting of the association, at which Frank D. Book, of Denver, Colo., president of the National Association of Credit Men, will be the guest speaker.

NOTED ORCHESTRA WILL NOT APPEAR HERE FEBRUARY 6

S. Russell Bridges, president of the Southern Musical bureau, announced Wednesday that the appearance of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra at the auditorium matinee and night on February 6 had been cancelled by the manager of the orchestra because of failure to secure the cooperation of the Atlanta public schools.

The matinee performance, Mr. Bridges stated, had been planned as a special children's program. It was necessary, he said, to secure the cooperation of the schools, particularly in view of the fact that the conductor, Henri Verbrugghen, had arranged a special program in line with the musical course being given this year in the schools in celebration of the Schubert centenary.

Mr. Bridges declared that all efforts to secure the school cooperation failed when he went before the board of education. "On account of the objections from two or three members of the board, which I and other members of the board were unable to overcome, it was impossible to make any arrangements to secure the proper announcements in the public schools in order to secure their attendance," Mr. Bridges stated. He added that a special effort to get the announcement before the schools through the Parent-Teacher association also failed to bring satisfactory results.

"The board of education," Mr. Bridges added, "seems to have one time-worn rule to which two or three members cling tenaciously, making it impossible to notify the public schools of any attraction coming to Atlanta, regardless of its merits."

STATE HEALTH BOARD REFLECTS R. F. MADDOX

Dr. McDuffie, of Columbus, Named Vice President; Reports Optimistic.

Featured by the reelection of Robert F. Maddox, of Atlanta as president, and Dr. James H. McDuffie, of Columbus, as vice president, together with the annual financial report, the annual meeting of the Georgia state board of health was held Wednesday at the state capital. Election of both president and vice president was unanimous. Mr. Maddox has served as president for the past six years.

Dr. Abernethy, who is state health commissioner and secretary to the board, showed appreciable decrease in the death rate per 100,000 of population from typhoid, smallpox, whooping cough, diphtheria, erysipelas, rheumatism, bronchitis and diarrhoea, enteritis. Increased death rates were reported from malaria, measles, scarlet fever, influenza, pellagra, diabetes mellitus and all forms of pneumonia.

Gives Complete Report.
Dr. Abernethy commented on the fact that this was the first annual meeting of the board at which he had been able to give a complete report on vital statistics.

The birth rate for the state in 1928 was 17.0 per 100,000 of population, 50,502 birth certificates being filed. A death rate of 10.9, with 34,905 death certificates, was recorded. The birth rate showed a slight decrease from 1927, while the death rate for the year was a little higher. He ascribed the latter condition to higher death rates from influenza, pellagra, pneumonia and malaria.

Referring particularly to pellagra, the commissioner stated that there was an increase in deaths from this cause of 33 per cent over 1927, the 1928 rate being 26 per 100,000.

Following the meeting Mr. Maddox issued the following statement: "The effectiveness of the operation of the state board of health has been generally conceded to be the most successful in its history. Each of the departmental activities of the board greatly increased their operations with very gratifying results."

The new tuberculosis hospital at Alto had its first full year of operation for white patients and in March last year the old hospital which was previously used for white patients was opened up for the treatment of negroes.

NAVAL SUPPLY BILL IS GIVEN TO HOUSE

Carries an Appropriation of $347,000,000 for Annual Needs.

Washington, January 30.—(AP)—The commissioning during the fiscal year beginning July 1 of the first of Uncle Sam's fleet of eight 10,000-ton cruisers built in compliance with the terms of the Washington arms limitation treaty was called to the attention of congress today by the house appropriations committee in reporting the annual supply bill for the naval establishment.

The committee said that during the coming 12-month fiscal year it was expected that the Salt Lake City, the Pensacola, the Chester and two sister ships, as yet unnamed, would be added to the United States fleet along with three submarines, two of them of the class known in naval parlance as the "fleet type."

To meet this expected increase, the committee recommended an enlisted personnel of 84,500 or 500 men more than provided for in current funds.

Increase Expected.
The same time the committee called the legislators' attention to what it said were navy department plans to keep all present ships in active service as well as those to be commissioned. It added that if this policy were to be continued an increase in naval appropriations might be expected in future years.

The total of the bill reported today, however, was less than that for the current year. The amount was listed at $347,400,448 or a decrease of $14,805,364 compared with last year's measure. This reduction, it was explained, resulted from a decrease in funds needed for construction and repair of ships.

The committee said the appropriation recommended for the next fiscal year was designed to provide for a fleet of 327 warships in active commission compared with 319 at the present time; a marine corps of virtually the same size, 18,200 enlisted men and approximately 1,000 officers, and a continuance of the ration allowance of 52 1/4 cents per day for each man.

The last three of the eight 10,000-ton cruisers under construction, the Chicago, the Houston and the Augusta, are not expected to be completed during the next fiscal year. These eight cruisers are in addition to the 15 proposed in the warship construction bill now pending in the senate.

$1,645,000 for Aeronautics.
The measure, the ninth of the annual supply bills to reach the house, allotted $31,645,000 of its total to the bureau of aeronautics. This amount is almost half a million dollars less than provided under current funds.

While providing for an increase of 500 in the enlisted personnel, the committee gave no estimate of the number of additional men needed for the eight new ships, but gave no estimate in testimony on the bill asked for 4,500 more enlisted men.

Other testimony before the committee was to the effect that the navy had less than 500 officer fliers, only about half of the number it would need, and a decrease of one under the number it had the previous year.

The committee said that there was no diminution contemplated in the operation of the fleet, and questioned the wisdom of keeping all of the ships in commission.

LIGHT RATES HIT, BOND BODY URGED BY WOMEN'S BODY

Resolutions calling for investigation of the city's needs by a special commission of disinterested citizens before any new bond issue is considered, and sympathizing with the objection recently voiced by the Federation of Labor to the revision of electric light and gas rates, were adopted at the monthly meeting of the Atlanta Civic Council of Women, according to Mrs. J. E. Andrews, president of the organization.

In the first resolution adopted by the council of women, it was proposed that the city authorities appoint a non-political commission prior to considering the much talked-of new bond issue, which Mrs. Andrews stated, is surrounded by a series of complicated conditions. The commission would investigate the actual needs of the city, recommend the amount of the bond issue warranted by these needs and recommend the departments to which the funds would be allocated.

In the second resolution the council deplored the new power rates recently set by the public service commission as an injustice to the small user. It joined hands with the local labor federation in extending its sympathy and offering assistance in bringing about a reconsideration of light and gas rates.

At the meeting Wednesday a nominating committee was appointed to prepare the slate for the coming election of officers of the organization in March. Mrs. Andrews said she expressed her determination not to run as a candidate for reelection to office.

REALTORS' PRESIDENT
INDUCTED INTO OFFICEJohn J. Thompson Addresses
Real Estate Board Members at Banquet.

John J. Thompson, newly-elected president of the Atlanta Real Estate board, was inducted into office at the annual banquet, sponsored by the board, held at the Atlanta Athletic club at 6 o'clock Wednesday night.

President Thompson addressed the board members relative to working policies.

"I realize that the success of any organization depends upon the actual work done by the members," Mr. Thompson said. "The members who do the work deserve the credit, and it is my desire that a unit system be installed in the board during the year and a strict record kept of each man's effort so that when the year is over facts will be recorded that will designate those most interested and useful to the organization for the past 12 months."

Plans New Committee.

President Thompson further announced the forming of a property owners' division that will have a far-reaching effect and give the individual property owner a chance to express himself on all public questions pertaining to real estate and taxation in a manner that has never been offered before.

Steps have been taken and committees appointed to carry on this campaign and organize this division, and from responses received and the movement as explained by the president, it was evident that it will fill a long-felt need in Atlanta. All details pertaining to the property owners' division and its purpose will be announced to the public at a later date.

Tax Commissioner Speaks.

R. C. Norman, tax commissioner of the state of Georgia, made an interesting talk to the members present regarding the need in Georgia of a more modern tax system. What he said to the members was proof that this need was evident and that if put into effect would help real estate in every way and increase its attractiveness as a salable commodity.

R. W. Evans, chairman of the membership committee, made a short talk covering the work of the membership committee, and welcomed 20 new members and expressed to every guest a desire to have all real estate salesmen connected with firm members and the local real estate brokers in the city.

of Atlanta to become members of the board.

Committee Personnel.

By Judge on His Vacation

POLITICS CHARGED TO TEMPLE RADIO

Los Angeles, January 30.—(AP)—

The $2,500 check which Aimee Simpson McPherson said she gave to Judge Carlos S. Hardy as a "love offering" was used by the jurist to meet vacation expenses, a Los Angeles newspaperman told an investigating committee of the state legislature today.

The witness, William Parker, claimed his information came from Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, estranged mother of Mrs. McPherson.

Parker was one of two newspapermen whose stories caused the committee's investigation on the theory that the check might have been a fee given for "legal advice" while the jurist was in office. Judge Hardy denied the intimation, and Mrs. McPherson subsequently testified that she had drawn the check from the "legal and defense" fund of Augustus Temple for benevolent services rendered by the judge.

Parker testified that he interviewed Mrs. Kennedy in Seattle last Sep-

Hoover Starts
On Fishing Trip;
Seeks Sail Fish

Miami Beach, Fla., January 30.—

(AP)—President-elect Hoover set forth from Belle Isle today on the second fishing expedition of his Florida vacation period, on which he hopes to realize a long-cherished ambition to land a sailfish.

Traveling on a special train composed of his private car and a single Pullman coach, Mr. Hoover went to Long Key, 90 miles south, to spend the night on the yacht Amitee. His plan is to return here late Saturday night after spending three days on the fishing grounds on the edge of the Gulf stream and around the Florida keys.

The storm, which caused him to delay his departure for one day, had subsided and the prospects were that he would have excellent weather while he is on the fishing grounds. There he will have as his guest Captain James Thompson, one of the most noted fishermen in this section.

Members of Party.

Besides Mrs. Hoover the next president was accompanied south by two men who frequently have been his companions on fishing trips in Florida waters—Associate Justice Harlan F. Stone, of the U. S. Supreme court, and Mark Sullivan, of New York.

Others in the party were James P. Goodrich, former governor of Indiana; Verne Marshall, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Jeremiah Milbank, of New York, eastern treasurer of the republican national committee, and Mrs. Milbank and William H. Hamilton a New York banker.

While the president-elect will spend most of the daylight hours on the fishing grounds, his three days' stay off Long Key will not be entirely a rest period as he will spend part of his evenings working on his inaugural address and answering urgent mail which will be sent to him daily by train from his headquarters here.

Visit from Keen.

Before leaving Belle Isle Mr. Hoover conferred with Hamilton F. Keen, of Elizabeth, senator-elect from New Jersey, who said afterwards he was satisfied that Dwight W. Morrow, ambassador to Mexico, would continue in that post.

Mr. Keen, Senator Walter F. Edge and other republican leaders of New Jersey had urged the president-elect to appoint Ambassador Morrow secretary of state. The president-elect has not indicated whether he will accept the state portfolio, and some of his near connections believe that he will survive.

SEN. WALTER GEORGE

SENDS CONGRATULATIONS.

Washington, January 30.—Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, today sent a message of congratulations to the first agricultural congress upon its convention in Atlanta in an effort to arrive at some program for the benefit of agriculture. The message, which was addressed to Judge Richard B. Russell, president of the congress, read as follows:

"Permit me to extend greetings to the first agricultural congress and to express confidence that through the cooperation of the financial, commercial and farming interests of the country the way to agricultural prosperity may be found."

Neighbor's Complaint
Results in Arrest
Of D. Rankin Manley

Doughty Rankin Manley, 27, who gave his occupation as a capitalist, Wednesday night was arrested on charges of drunk and disorderly conduct at the residence, 640 Morningside drive, at 10:28 o'clock. A $26 collateral for his release was posted by his mother, Mrs. Valeria Manley, of 1080 Pace Ferry road.

Police received a call from a Mr. Dobbs, who lives in the Morningside section, to quell a disturbance in the residence at 640 Morningside drive. Patrolmen A. J. Coppenger and W. L. Tyson arrested Manley on drunk and disorderly charges. After he was sober, Mrs. Manley was allowed to post collateral for his release.

Mothers—Try Mild
Children's Musterole

Of course, you know good old Musterole; how quickly, how easily it relieves chest colds, sore throat, rheumatic and neuralgic pain, sore joints and muscles, stiff neck and lambo.

We also want you to know CHILDREN'S MUSTEROLE—Musterole in milder form. Unexcelled for relief of croupy coughs and colds; it penetrates, soothes and relieves without the blister of the old-fashioned mustard plaster. Keep a jar handy. It comes ready to apply instantly, without fuss or bother.

Reduce the Acid

In sick stomachs—instantly

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Cruel and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor, Charles H. Phillips, since 1878.—(adv.)

Works on Address.

Aside from his work on his inaugural address and consideration of his cabinet, the next chief executive is giving thought to plans for his administration. One policy he has decided upon is that of closer supervision of the work of the independent agencies of the government, such as the shipping board, veterans' bureau, federal waterpower commission and nearly fifty others.

This task will be assigned to an additional white house secretary at a salary of $10,000 a year, the same as that now received by the chief secretary to the president. A recommendation for an appropriation to cover the salary for the next fiscal year recently was submitted to congress by President Coolidge.

Mr. Hoover thus will have three secretaries, one to handle the large volume of mail which passes through the executive offices and another to deal with the public and with party and congressional leaders who desire appointments with the chief executive.

Reading of Gallogly's Story

YOUTH WELL-POISED AS HE FACES JURY

Only Dramatic Touch of Day

BY TAURICE DOZIER.

In face of a determined effort by defense attorneys to break down any testimony identifying Dick Gallogly as the man in the door of the McRoberts Pharmacy on the night of November 10 when George Harsh shot and killed Willard Smith, while perpetrating a holdup, it came as a distinct surprise Wednesday afternoon when the youth took the stand, as the only witness for the defense, and admitted that he was "standing on the outside near the door" when the shooting took place.

Young Gallogly's sole defense was a simply-worded statement of considerable length, setting out the declaration that he had accompanied Harsh to the store but that instead of having in mind the purpose of robbery, he was attempting to persuade Harsh to forego the robbery, to restrain him.

Presented Dramatic Picture. Gallogly read in such a calm, subdued voice, that he was instructed to come down to the railing of the jury box, and there he presented a dramatic picture of a boy pleading his own cause.

His account of that fatal evening, given as unsworn testimony, was a recital of a quick decision by Harsh to rob the store, as Harsh, Gallogly and Jack Mahoney drove past the establishment. It contained a recital of all the happenings of the evening, beginning with a ride about town and ending with Mahoney and Gallogly spending the night together after tossing Harsh's bloody clothing into Peachtree creek as the boys drove into town from Jack Wright's apartment.

Tried to Restrain Harsh. That he had attempted to restrain Harsh, even to the extent of clutching his coat as he entered the store, was the burden of Gallogly's story. He denied that he had a pistol during the holdup and that he had stood in the doorway. He denied that he had struck James Stephens, negro delivery boy. He said that Harsh used his Gallogly's pistol in attempting to rob Smith.

When Gallogly had finished his reading, Solicitor Boykin moved to place on the stand witnesses whom he claimed would establish other robberies in which Gallogly had participated and thus destroy his declaration of "no intent."

This move brought forth a most determined contest by defense counsel which ultimately succeeded in barring such testimony.

Throughout more than an hour of argument between opposing counsel the jury was dismissed. In fact, Solicitor Boykin prefaced his request for additional testimony with a motion of exclusion of the jury.

Testimony Claimed Relevant. Mr. Boykin argued that rebuttal testimony, involving other alleged crimes, was relevant because it would serve to destroy Gallogly's declaration of lack of intent.

Immediately Reuben Arnold, of the defense counsel, was on his feet contesting on the ground that it is an established principle of law that evidence of earlier crimes, charged or admitted, was inadmissible. He said that to permit such testimony would be to discard any possibility of a criminal ever reforming. He said English law recognized the principle that a man's past crimes, if they were removed when one party to the crime was removed and withdrew. He argued that this change of heart could occur within a minute before the actual commission of crime and still absolve the defendant. With all these contentions Mr. Boykin agreed. But he declared that the highest courts had repeatedly upheld such evidence, when presented to prove motive, as a method of deduction.

Gore, Booth Cases Cited.

Two famous Georgia cases were cited. The Gore and the Booth cases. Defense contended that the Booth case was a "twin brother" of the issue at trial. In that action the supreme court held that evidence of other crimes, although committed in much the same manner, was not relevant. In the Gore case the court had held that previous crimes were admissible to establish intent. Gore had claimed that he was forced, at gun point, into robbery. Previous robberies were cited to destroy this theory.

Judge Moore overruled defense objections, but reconsidered his ruling and retired to his chambers with members of counsel. Upon reentering court, he announced that the Gore and Gallogly cases were dissimilar because Gore admitted presence in the store at the actual commission of the crime, whereas Gallogly did not.

Arguments Begin. When finally overruled, Mr. Boykin announced himself as finished and arguments began.

There was nothing of the spectacular in court. Only a moment of drama crept in when Gallogly presented himself before the jury to read his denial of guilt. A well-groomed youth, he read quietly a composition which might have been inscribed by a boy in public school.

There was none of the easy-flowing rhetorical style present as in Harsh's essays. His words never exceeded two syllables and his sentences were short and simple in construction.

Gallogly was not noticeably nervous. He had poised and appeared unconcerned of the focus of hundreds of eyes. He might have been reading in class-room instead of pleading for his life and liberty.

It is anticipated that the jury will be instructed and begin consideration of the case early this afternoon with a possibility of a verdict before evening.

GALLOGLY ACQUITTAL

going to his apartment and getting the doctor to treat the wound, but could not get him. We went by the room of Mr. Hightower on the Emory campus, who was a medical student and lived in the dormitory, and tried to get him to take Harsh in for the night and he said that he would, but that the students would have a great deal of curiosity about how he got wounded. We went back to Sutton's house and called up Mr. Wright again and found him at home, and went to Wright's apartment and Dr. Riley was called up.

"Wright took off Harsh's clothes and Mahoney, Sutton and I left. Mahoney carried the bloody clothes out under his arm and Mahoney removed all the identification marks from the two garments, shirt and underwear, with a razor blade which he had gotten at Wright's apartment without any suggestion from me whatsoever."

"We went on back to Sutton's house where my car was parked, and as we got out of Sutton's car and put it in mine, I then gave my pistol to Sutton and told him to keep it. I had tried to sell this pistol to Sutton several days before this occurrence."

Robberies Alleged. "Mahoney and I then rode out to my house and as we were crossing Peachtree creek on Piedmont road Mahoney threw the bloody clothes over the right hand side into the creek—or at least he said he threw the clothes into the creek."

"I understand that they were afterwards found. We went on to my house and Mahoney spent the night with me that night."

"That night Mahoney talked me about several robberies in which he had engaged and in which I did the robbing and in which I drove and waited in the automobile."

"He said that on three or four different occasions he had been with Harsh on these robberies and had, each time, gotten his share of the money obtained. Mahoney also told me that night that he had tried to get Harsh to join him in robbing a bank in Acworth, somewhere between Atlanta and Rome, which he had heard on his way up to Rome when he was attending Darlington High school, but that Harsh had refused to join him in it."

"I am not guilty of murder. I did not kill Mr. Smith and had no part in his killing. Mr. Smith would be living today if George Harsh had heeded my advice and had even at the last moment come back with me when I pulled him by the arm and tried to keep him from entering the drug store."

"I did not tell Mahoney to call up Morgan Sutton and use my name. Mahoney called Sutton himself in his own name."

Mahoney Testifies. The appearance of Mahoney and his graphic detailing of the events of the night Smith was slain provided the high light in the state's summation of evidence against Gallogly. Mahoney, an Oglethorpe student, who was with Gallogly on the night of the murder, appeared at the morning session. He was the only state's witness cross-examined at length by Mr. Arnold.

Mahoney testified that Harsh and Gallogly came to him on the night of the murder and invited him to ride in the state's car. "We started from Oglethorpe, where we had been attending a fraternity meeting," the witness said. "We drove around several blocks and finally came in the vicinity of Duncas de Leon avenue and Jackson street. Here Harsh and Gallogly told me that they had dated with two girls several blocks away and asked me to ride around the block several times while they met the girls."

Mahoney said his two companions told him that they wanted to drive up in front of the girls' home because they thought the girls might not want to keep the engagement if they knew a third boy was in the car.

Return to Car. "Harsh and Gallogly got out on Boulevard and I started to drive Dick's car around the block," Mahoney said. "I went around once, slowly and did not see them and returned a second time. On the second trip, Dick and George hailed me on Greenwood avenue and put in the car. They did not have the girls along, but they told me to drive away from us as fast as possible."

Mahoney said he did not learn until he had traveled several blocks that there had been a holdup attempt and that Harsh had been shot.

"We then drove to Howell Mill road and out a distance from the end of the street car line, where we stopped to look at Harsh's wound," Mahoney said. "As it appeared to be serious and George was in pain, I wanted to get him to a doctor. He suggested Dr. Julian Riley and thought we could get him to come to the apartment of Jack D. Wright, his friend."

Go to Wright's Home. Mahoney said they did not find Wright at his apartment and decided to call on Morgan Sutton for aid. They went to Sutton's home and from there to Emory university, where they sought the assistance of W. C. Hightower, Jr., an Emory steward, who lived on the campus.

"When Hightower was unable to get George in the Emory clinic we went back to Sutton's home and called Wright on the telephone," Mahoney said. "He was at home and when we asked if we could bring George there he said that we could. We went to his apartment on Sixteenth street."

At the Wright apartment, Mahoney said, Dr. Riley was called. He, Gallogly and Sutton had left the apartment before the doctor arrived, he testified.

In the examination Mr. Boykin brought out that when the three boys left the Wright apartment there was in the car the shirt and underwear worn by Harsh and which had been found from him by Mr. Wright in examining the boy's car.

Threw Clothing Out. "We took Morgan Sutton home and as we had been using his car since our first visit there we left it there. Dick and I getting back in his car and starting in his home on Peachtree road," Mahoney said. "On the way, while crossing Peachtree creek on Piedmont road, we hurled the bundle of Harsh's clothing into the creek."

Mahoney said that upon arriving at Dick's home the two boys went to bed, Dick cautioning him not to say anything concerning the proceeds of the events of the night.

On cross-examination, Mr. Arnold asked Mahoney if he had not told Gallogly that night not to worry, that he (Mahoney) and Harsh had been in several holdups in which he drove the car and Harsh committing the robberies, they dividing the proceeds. Mahoney replied emphatically that he had not told Gallogly of this.

Robberies Denied. "I could not tell him of these things because I had not been in any robberies," the witness responded in answer to Mr. Arnold's question.

"Didn't you tell George Harsh to aid you in robbing the bank at Acworth, Ga.?" Mr. Arnold asked.

"I did not," Mahoney said. After questioning Mahoney at length concerning the details of the four of the city seeking assistance for Harsh, Mr. Arnold dismissed the witness. He had been on the stand about an hour and a half.

College Chums Testify. Preceding Mahoney on the stand were a number of seven witnesses, including college chums of Harsh and Gallogly, who testified to having seen the two boys together at various times preceding the robbery series which climaxed in the slaying of Smith.

During the appearance of one of these, Thomas W. Daniel, Jr., Harsh's roommate at Oglethorpe, a motion for a mistrial was offered by Reuben Arnold and overruled by Judge Moore when the witness inadvertently said that Gallogly shot up the clock at Oglethorpe. As soon as young Daniel

DR. BLOSSER'S Medical Cigarettes

At grocery stores, bottled drink stands, industrial cafeterias and lunchrooms

Harsh and Gallogly together were Mrs. Edna Bailey, George W. Forrester, Jr., Fred Boynton, George Hanson, W. C. Perkins and W. W. Moran.

Mrs. Mary Belle Smith, widow of the slain drug store manager, was called to the stand to testify of her husband's having been employed in the store and to establish further that Smith died of the gunshot wound received at the hands of Harsh.

Tom Kirkpatrick, clerk in the pharmacy where Smith was slain, also was recalled by the state at Tuesday morning's session to identify photographs of the store and to point out, in the photograph, the spot in the store he previously had testified Gallogly stood during the holdup attempt and the shooting.

Tells of Arrest. The first witness at the morning session was Patrolman E. D. Beuse, of the Athens police department, who testified that he had arrested Gallogly at Athens on orders from Chief of Detectives A. Lamar Poole, of Atlanta, and that he had found a .45 caliber automatic pistol in Gallogly's car.

Crowds continued to storm the courtroom in an effort to hear the evidence being presented but only those who could find space inside without crowding were permitted to enter. When all available space had been filled, Judge Moore ordered the doors locked and no one permitted to enter unless they were taking the place of someone who had departed.

ATLANTA IS GOOD FINANCIAL RISK, ELKS' PAPER SAYS

Atlanta is one of three cities in the United States cited in the February issue of the Elks Magazine as standing solidly behind any obligation it assumes, and of indemnifying those who render it financial aid.

In an article, "Tax Anticipation Liens," written by Paul Tomlinson, the author has this to say: "When the government of the United States or cities like New York, Los Angeles or Atlanta borrow money and pledge their word to repay the loan with interest, the lender—that is the bond buyer—is not running much risk."

The article was submitted to Mayor I. N. Ragsdale Wednesday by B. Graham West, city comptroller.

URGES DEKALB-FULTON SCHOOLS BE MERGED

Robert Ramspeck, Decatur City Attorney, Offers Suggestion to State Solons.

Decatur, Ga., January 30.—(Special.)—Suggestion has been made here that schools in Fulton and DeKalb counties be merged. Robert C. W. Ramspeck, city attorney of this municipality, is agitating the project. He is also a DeKalb representative in the Georgia legislature.

Mr. Ramspeck plans on presenting an amendment to the Georgia legislature which would authorize merging of the Fulton and DeKalb counties' schools. His plan would be to establish a metropolitan area which includes Atlanta. It would be governed by a commission which would be authorized to levy taxes for streets, schools and sewers.

Noile. The petition for letters of administration was filed by Alston, Alston, Foster & Moise.

After-Effects More Dangerous Than Flu Itself

Colds Attacking Weakened System Pave Way For Pneumonia and Other Serious Diseases

AVOID TOO MUCH DOSING

One of the peculiarities of influenza is that its toxins leave the digestive system upset. Constant "dosing" for the colds which come so frequently after a flu attack will further disturb the digestion and lessen the appetite. Just rub it on the throat and chest.

Vicks VapoRub is especially valuable here, because it is applied externally and so can be used freely with no risk of upsetting a delicate digestion. Just rub it on the throat and chest.

Vicks acts two ways at once to check the cold and avoid serious complications: (1) through the skin like a poultice, and (2) direct to the air passages by means of its medicated vapors, released by the body-heat.

She Won't Cook Can't Stand Smell

"I could not eat or cook because the smell of food sickened me. I took Adlerika and now I eat anything without discomfort."—Mrs. John R. Gell.

The simple mixture of glycerin, buckthorn bark, etc. (known as Adlerika), has a most surprising DOUBLED action. It acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel (most medicines act on lower bowel only) and removes foul matter that poisoned the system for months. It clears GAS and sourness from the stomach and hinders, bringing INSTANT relief from stomach trouble. And, in addition, Adlerika removes metabolic poisons which cause neuritis and rheumatism.

Dr. H. L. Shoup, New York, reports: "In addition to intestinal cleansing, Adlerika checks the growth of intestinal bacteria."

Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 50 years' practice, I have found nothing to exceed Adlerika."

J. E. Puckett: "After using Adlerika I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated."

It is surprising you the great amount of poisons Adlerika brings out—you would never believe they were in your system. In chronic constipation, GAS, sour stomach and sick headache, just ONE spoonful Adlerika brings wonderful relief. At leading druggists. Send for FREE check enclosed. ADLERIKA, Dept. M-37, St. Paul, Minn.—(adv.)

RADIOING THE AIR WAVES

BY THE DIAL TWISTER.

A special transcription of Rubinstein's "Romance" will be played by the Singing Violins during the weekly coast-to-coast broadcast by the Seiberling Singers over WSB and the N. B. C. system tonight at 8 o'clock.

Under the direction of Frank Black, pianist and arranger of the Seiberling Singers, the program opens with "The Song of India," from Rimsky-Korsakov's opera, "Sadko," and continues with the famous aria, "Salut Demeure Chaise et Pare," from Gounod's opera, "Faust," sung by James Melton, "Seiberling's own tenor." A piano duet by Urban and Arden of a special transcription of "March with a composition by Scherzinger, adds further interest to the program.

The complete program follows:

The "Humoresque" of Tchaikovsky features the entertainment to be broadcast from the weekly reception in the home of Haley, Stuart's "Old Counselor" over WSB and a wide network of stations in the N. B. C. system tonight at 9 o'clock.

The "Old Counselor" as usual will feature the musical program with comments on his own experience in the field of investment securities, passing on to radio listeners the full benefit of hard-won knowledge of this important subject.

Other musical highlights of the reception are Victor Herbert's "Al Fresco" and Godowsky's "Pavane." The program ends with "Only a Rose" from Friml's "Vagabond King."

The musical details of the program follow:

9:00—Victor Herbert's "Al Fresco"
9:05—Godowsky's "Pavane"
9:10—Victor Herbert's "Al Fresco"
9:15—Godowsky's "Pavane"

The Sonora hour, to be broadcast over the Columbia system at 8:30 o'clock tonight, will again present a program of music in lighter vein.

The Sonora Phonograph company, sponsors of this program, state they have received many letters expressing approval of their policy of including occasional programs of more popular music, and for tonight have arranged for Oliver Smith, tenor, who has been heard on earlier Sonora hours, to sing familiar ballads.

The Sonora male trio, who have rapidly established a strong reputation for themselves by their offerings on this broadcast, will sing several numbers, and the augmented Pivadors Sonora group will offer the latest and most popular dance music from Broadway's recent "hits."

The taking of a South Sea island picture will be the subject of the hour that "Close-Ups" will present over the Columbia system tonight at 9:30 o'clock.

A large part of this broadcast will consist of the voyage to the island, where the main scenes of this film are to be taken. The host on which the company, stars, director and cameramen are traveling is not a large one, and when it encounters a storm the result is never a very happy one. How unsteady sea legs affect the disposition of two stars, who are considered by all film fans as a notably happy couple, will afford amusement to all interested in what goes on behind the scenes.

Programs in central standard time, all times are P. M. unless otherwise indicated. Wave-lengths on left of call letters, kilocycles on right. Clear channel station programs in detail.

Announcing - The World's First Bonded Tire- The New AJAX GOLD BOND BALLOON

*Bonded for a Year and a Half against Blowouts Cuts Bruises
Accidents and other Road Hazards*

It's here! The new AJAX Gold Bond Balloon with the AJAX Gold Bond Performance Contract—the most sensational development in the tire industry since the invention of the modern balloon!

Read that all-important clause:—"warranted for eighteen months against blowouts, cuts, bruises . . . accidents and any other road hazards!"

Only a super-quality tire could justify so sweeping and definite a performance pledge—and you may take our word that the new AJAX Gold Bond Balloon is precisely that kind of tire!

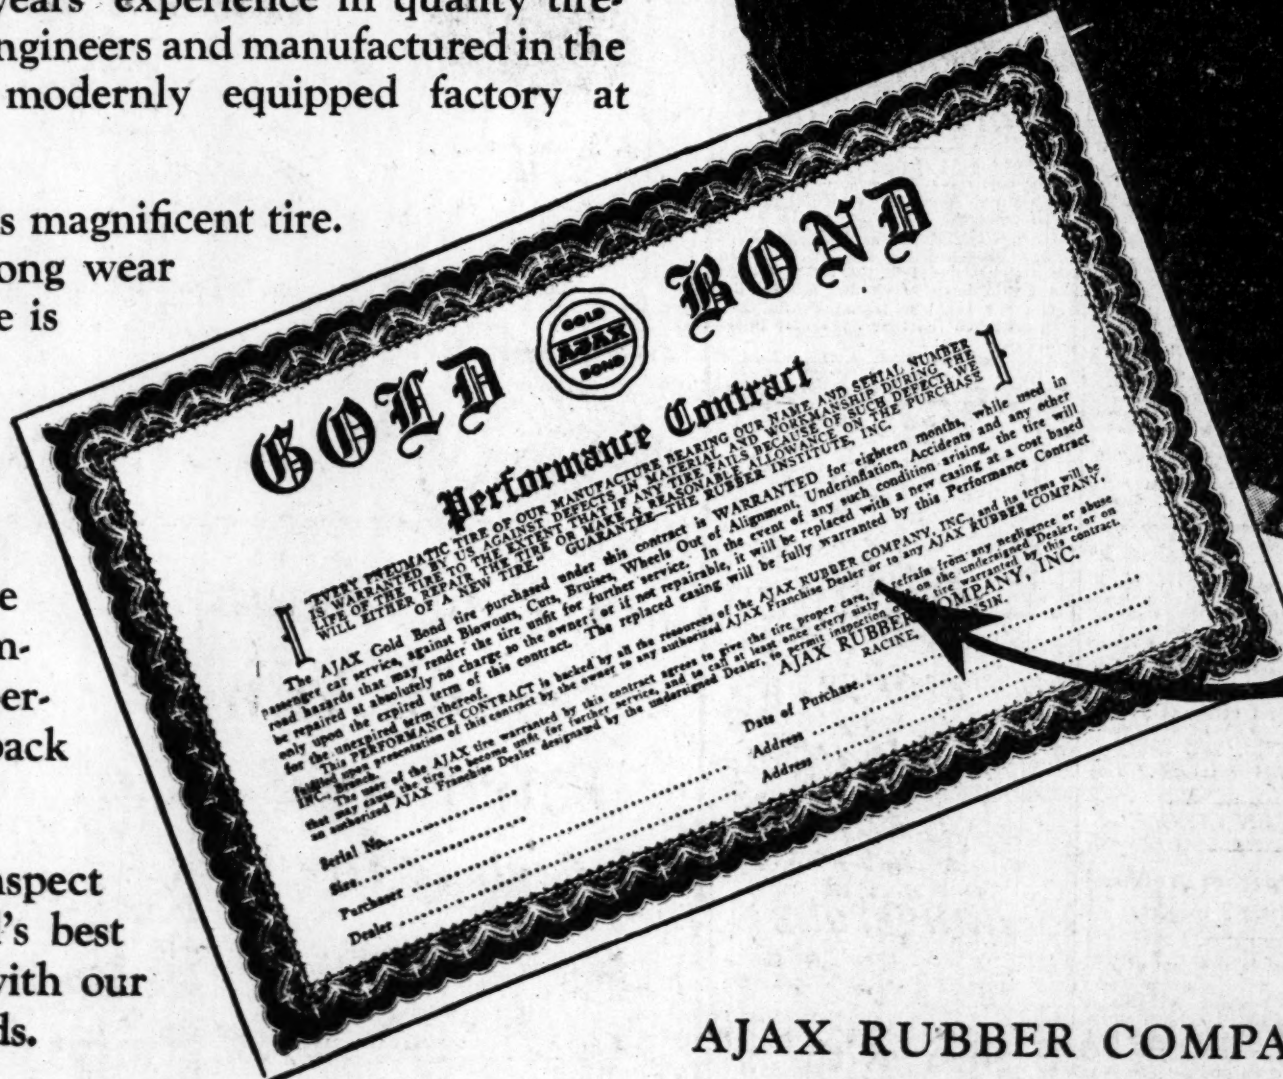

It is the product of AJAX 26 years' experience in quality tire-building—designed by AJAX engineers and manufactured in the industry's newest and most modernly equipped factory at Racine, Wisconsin.

Come in and take a look at this magnificent tire.

Its very appearance promises long wear—and you will agree that here is the tire to add that final touch of beauty and snap to your new car—or to improve the looks of your old one.

And with every tire, you receive the AJAX Gold Bond Performance Contract—the strongest performance pledge ever placed back of any tire.

You are cordially invited to inspect our complete line of the world's best protected tires, and to confer with our experts regarding your tire needs.

Warranted for eighteen months, while used in passenger car service, against Blowouts, Cuts, Bruises, Wheels Out of Alignment, Under-inflation, Accidents and any other road hazards that may render the tire unfit for further service.

General and Mrs. Robert Wood Will Be Hosts at Dinner Party

General Robert Wood and Mrs. Wood, of Chicago, who are spending a few days at the Atlanta Biltmore, will be hosts this evening at dinner at the Brookhaven Country club. Covers will be placed for a number of prominent Atlantans and their wives. General and Mrs. Wood leave Friday for Augusta, Ga., where they will visit the latter's mother. Before her marriage Mrs. Wood was Miss Mary Hardwick, of Augusta, a representative of aristocratic and prominent Georgia families. She and her distinguished husband, General Wood, who is president of the Sears-Roebuck company, occupy a distinct position in Chicago's exclusive social circles and are extensively feted by prominent Atlantans on their frequent visits to this city.

Another interesting dinner party this evening at this popular and handsome new club will be that given by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Otley in compliment to Miss Mary Harvey and John King Otley, Jr., whose marriage will be a brilliant event of February 14.

Centering the interest of Atlanta clubwomen is the tea at which Mrs. James Thompson Williams will be hostess at her home on Piedmont avenue in honor of Mrs. John R. Hornady, president of the Atlanta Woman's club. An invitation is extended the entire membership of the club to call between the hours of 4 and 6 to meet the honor guest.

Biltmore Dinner-Dance of Interest.

The dinner-dance Wednesday evening at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel was one of the most interesting events of the mid-week. Dinner and dancing were enjoyed in the Georgian ballroom of the hotel from 8:30 until 12 o'clock.

Miss Clara Cole entertained in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. William Wardlaw, III, who have recently returned from their wedding trip to Hawaii. Covers were placed for the wedding attendants of Mr. and Mrs. Wardlaw, the guest list numbering twenty-six.

Dining together were Mr. and Mrs. Archie Sessions, of Marietta, Ga.; Miss Yolande Gwin and Charles Wilkie.

Little Miss Garner Celebrates Birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Garner entertained their little daughter, Martha Louise Garner, at their home in Peachtree Hills, Monday in honor of her fifth birthday.

Assisting Mrs. Garner in entertaining the little folks were: Mrs. Clint W. Hager, Mrs. B. M. Clough, Miss Mary Lou Gatlin and Miss Catherine White.

Felicians To Entertain At Tea-Dance.

Invitations have been issued by the Felicians to a tea-dance which will be held at the Columbian club, 1200 Peachtree street, Saturday afternoon, February 2, from 5 to 7 o'clock, according to Miss Rose M. Moran, president. The chaperons for the occasion will be Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. James Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. George Harris, Mr. and Mrs. John Morris, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Felix De Golan, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Ramsey and Captain and Mrs. J. E. Reich.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones Are Honor Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jones, of Providence, R. I., who are spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shaefer, en route home from Winter Park, Fla., are being extensively entertained.

Mrs. William Miller and Mrs. Eugene Haynes were Wednesday hostesses at an informal luncheon at the Capital City club in compliment to these attractive visitors. Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hill entertained at an informal dinner at the Brookhaven Country club, in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Jones.

"The Store All Women Know"

Miss Childress Weds John A. Norman At St. Philip's

The marriage of Miss Katherine Childress, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Harris Childress, of Marietta, to John Anderson Norman, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Y. Norman, was solemnized at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening at St. Philip's cathedral. Bishop H. J. Mikell performed the ceremony in the presence of a representative gathering of relatives and friends.

The altar which was banked with palms and ferns formed a luxuriant background for large baskets of white narcissi and anaparragons which were flanked on each side of the altar by tall cathedral candelabra holding slender white burning tapers which cast a soft glow over the scene.

The musical program. Preceding the ceremony H. W. Schaefer, organist of the cathedral; Miss Mabel Perkins, soprano, and H. E. Bodford, violinist, rendered a program of nuptial music. The program included: Thais, Benediction Nuptiale, by de Evry; Cantilene Nuptiale, by Dubois; Lohengrin's wedding chorus was used as the processional and Mendelssohn's bridal chorus as the recessional.

Miss Wesley Childress, sister of the bride, who acted as maid of honor, entered first wearing a becoming model of pale blue satin, fashioned with tight waist and full skirt, offset with a close-fitting hat of the same shade. She carried a bouquet of pink rose buds, tied with streamer of tulle to match her costume.

The lovely bride, who entered with her father, John Harris Childress, by whom she was given in marriage, was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, William E. Childress, brother of the bride. She was never more lovely than in her bridal robes of white satin featuring a tight waist and gracefully scalloped skirt graduated to ankle length in the back. The bride's white tulle veil, which formed the train, was caught to the soft hair of the bride beneath a bandeau of orange blossoms. She carried a magnificent, shimmery bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley, tied with streamers of white satin ribbon.

Mrs. John Harris Childress, mother of the bride, wore a becoming model of dark blue crepe, offset with touches of cream. Mrs. S. Y. Norman, mother of the groom, wore a becoming model of blue.

The young couple, who are widely known in Atlanta and Marietta, will make their home on Louise Place.

Mrs. Kahn Installed As President Of Jewish Women's Club

Mrs. M. L. Kahn was installed as president of the Jewish Women's club at its recent meeting, the other newly-elected officers of the club including Mrs. S. Leaf, vice president; Mrs. A. A. Bearman, second vice president; Miss Mary Tenenbaum, third vice president; Mrs. F. Gottesman, treasurer; Mrs. J. L. Saul, assistant treasurer; Mrs. M. Kessler, recording secretary; Miss Lillian Singer, corresponding secretary; Miss Esther Siegel, assistant corresponding secretary.

The new regime is planning several worthy undertakings for the year, for which plans will be discussed at the next general meeting, to be held February 11 at 8 o'clock, and the second Monday in every month thereafter.

Board meetings will be held at 10 o'clock the first Wednesday morning in every month, beginning with February 6.

Mrs. Garrett Honors Mrs. Henry Brown.

Mrs. Henry A. Brown, who was before her recent marriage Miss Annette Gay, is being honored at a number of informal affairs. Mrs. Steve Garrett entertained at a bridge-ten on Wednesday afternoon at her home in Druid Hills in compliment to Mrs. Brown.

Among others, planning parties for Mrs. Brown are Mrs. F. J. Coolidge, Jr., Miss Virginia Coolidge and Miss La Trelle Small.

Miss Thomson To Wed Mr. Peeples.

Mrs. D. G. Driggers, of Macon, Ga., announces the engagement of her daughter, Katherine D. Thomson, to Clarence George Peeples, the wedding to take place in the early spring.

School of Oratory To Present Program.

The morning students of the Atlanta School of Oratory and Expression, 402 Wesley Memorial church building, will present a program of music and expression Thursday at 12 o'clock. The expression features will consist of an interpretation of "How Do You Do" and "Good-Bye" by Miss Vera Howell, "Dramatic Interpretation of a Matrimonial Experiment" by Miss Agnes Rawls, extemporaneous speech, by P. R. Butler, epic poem, "The End of the World" by Miss Joseph M. Spinks; a dramatic sketch, "Reading a Letter," by Miss Marjorie Ruff; a humorous reading, "Advice to Husbands," by Miss Bernice Ward. Songs will be rendered by pupils of Mrs. Frank Miller.

St. Philip's Aid To Serve Lunch.

The Ladies' Aid of St. Philip's Cathedral will serve the following menu Thursday at the St. Philip's luncheon. East Union street: Scalloped oysters or barbecued pork ham, fresh turnip greens, baked sweet potatoes, corn sticks, whole wheat biscuit, apple crystals with whipped cream, Charlotte russe, coffee, tea, milk. Plate, 25 cents; dessert, 10 cents; drinks, 5 cents. Mrs. St. Elmo Macsengale is chairman of the committee in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Peacock Celebrate Golden Wedding in East Point

Celebrating their golden wedding anniversary Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Peacock entertained at an open house reception Wednesday evening at their home in East Point. Hundreds of friends of this beloved couple, who have made their home in East Point for the past 11 years, greeted them at this celebration of their 50th wedding day.

The lovely home was artistically decorated in a profusion of palms, ferns, pink carnations, roses and golden callulads, which were effectively arranged, forming a picturesque setting for the party. The snow white wedding cake embossed with golden sunbeams, 1879-1929, and surrounded with yellow snapdragons, occupied the center of the beautifully appointed table which was overlaid with an oil lace cover.

The Receiving Line.
Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Peacock were Mrs. C. S. Wynne and Mrs. H. B. Suttles. Mrs. Peacock was becomingly gowned in a straight line model of navy blue crepe with a line round yoke of old point lace. She wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Wynne wore a becoming model of navy blue crepe with a line round yoke of old point lace. She wore a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Suttles was gowned in an attractive model of tan crepe.

At the wedding ceremony which featured the reception, Mrs. T. J. Powell and Mrs. M. A. Woodall, the only surviving members of the ceremony 50 years ago, were the attendants of Mr. and Mrs. Peacock. The Rev. W. L. Cutts, pastor of the Capitol View Baptist church, performed the ceremony. Assisting in entertaining were Misses Frances Peacock, Evelyn Peacock, Ruby Suttles, Geneva Bradford, Miss Eva Green kept the bride's book. Mr. and Mrs. Peacock's ten sons and daughters were present upon this occasion. They are: Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Peacock, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Peacock, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Peacock, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Peacock, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Peacock, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Peacock, of Jacksonville, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Willis, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Dunn and Mrs. Edna Connally.

The Program.
An interesting program featured the entertainment. Six of the 22 grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Peacock, all of whom were present, played appropriate selections. Haynes, the president of the association, gave an outline of an extensive tree, playing program that is being advanced on the Stone Mountain highway. A brilliant musical program, under the direction of Mrs. Mary Griffith Dobbs, was an additional feature of the program.

Distinguished guests invited for the occasion were Governor L. G. Hardman, Dr. T. H. McHatton, of the University of Georgia; G. E. Willis, president of the Stone Mountain Memorial association; Eugene Haynes, president of the Haynes-Mason corporation; L. H. Roan, of the Atlanta Georgian-Sunday American; John Panchall, from the Atlanta Journal; Clark Howell, from The Atlanta Constitution, and Mrs. H. G. SUPREME COURT HIT IN OKLAHOMA PROBE

Oklahoma City, January 30.—(AP)—Inquisitorial fire of the Oklahoma legislature centered today on the state supreme court, with only scattering shots directed at the office of Henry S. Johnston, suspended governor, who is scheduled to plead to eight articles of impeachment before the senate court tomorrow.

Representatives brought forth a charge from Rush Greenslade, attorney for the Gypsy Oil company, that his company had been forced to settle a case before the supreme court for $250,000 in exchange for "the maladministration of justice."

Joseph Bailey, former United States senator from Texas, previously had testified that in his opinion the supreme court handed down erroneous decisions in two election contest cases in which Bailey was interested. Owen Owen, former state district judge, told the committee he had received a report concerning one of his clients which led him to believe the client "used his credit" with the court.

Greenslade testified the Gypsy company had effected the $250,000 settlement in suit with purchasers of the oil interests of Loula. H. Foster, Creek freedman, after the supreme court twice had denied a rehearing on an adverse opinion written by Fred P. Brannon, then chief justice. The opinion, Greenslade declared, reversed a succession of previous decisions of the court and was withdrawn from the court's records after the settlement had been made.

Creek freedmen are former slaves or descendants of slaves of Creek Indians, who were freed by the emancipation proclamation and received government allotments on the same basis as the Indians. Brannon was defeated for reelection last November.

Three additional impeachment charges voted against the suspended governor were accepted by the senate impeachment court today and their hearing was set for February 5. One of the three articles was a general charge of incompetency, which a member of the house who previously had voted against all charges declared yesterday was the only article providing constitutional grounds for impeachment. The other two resemble four to which Johnston will plead tomorrow, alleging the illegal issuance of deficiency certificates.

JENSEN FORCED TO LAND AFTER SHORT FLIGHT

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., January 30.—(AP)—Unable to gain altitude in an attempt to establish a new solo endurance flight in which he was using automobile gasoline, Martin Jensen, Hawaiian flyer, made a forced landing on the beach of the north shore of Long Island today.

Jensen took off here at 10:14 a. m. This morning with considerable trouble. He just got in the air at the end of the long trans-Atlantic runway and missed telephone wires at Currier field by inches.

He seemed to be gaining altitude satisfactorily then and disappeared over the sound. A telephone message was received from him shortly before 1 o'clock, however, saying that he had been unable to get his ship up and had to land on the beach near Northport.

Jensen said he suffered no injury and the plane was damaged, but the tide was coming in and he feared that the plane might be submerged. Wrecking cars were sent from here to haul the plane to safety.

Mr. and Mrs. Mobley Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

Among the most interesting events of Wednesday was the fiftieth wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. James Robert Mobley at their home on Juniper street. On account of the recent illness of Mrs. Mobley the plans for a large reception were changed to a quiet celebration, at which only the immediate family and the family connections were present at an informal tea in the late afternoon.

The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion, quantities of fragrant roses, ferns and narcissus being used in artistic abundance. In the dining room, where the tea table was exquisitely appointed in every detail, a color scheme of green and yellow was carried out, lovely yellow Persian roses and yellow calla lilies being attractively arranged. In the living room, premier roses and palms and ferns decorated the mantels, tables and banked the corners and side walls of the spacious room. Adorning the table in the dining room was the large, handsome three-tiered cake, beautifully embossed and made in exact replica of the wedding cake at the wedding reception of Mr. and Mrs. Mobley 50 years ago.

An interesting feature of the occasion was the presence of a group of the bride party who were attendants at the brilliant marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Mobley, whose wedding was solemnized January 30, 1878, at the First Methodist church in Newburgh, Ga. The late Rev. Sam D. Jones, of Cartersville, performed the ceremony in the presence of a fashionable gathering of relatives and friends. Mrs. Mary Jones Turner, now of Marietta, the daughter of Rev. Jones, was one of the attendants at the wedding 50 years ago, and was also one of the guests at the golden celebration on Wednesday. Other attendants who were present on both occasions were J. B. Robinson, of Indiana, brother of Mrs. Mobley; J. A. Mobley, of Social Circle, brother of Mr. Mobley;

Mrs. Martha Hurd, of Griffin; Mrs. H. K. Gardner, of Elberton, Ga., and Mrs. Belle Robinson Lee, who acted as flower girl at the wedding.

In addition to this group of wedding attendants were the members of the family who included the charming daughters, Mrs. Sims Bray, of Atlanta; Mrs. Charles Russell Clapp, of Toledo, Ohio, and Mrs. Raymond Demere, of Savannah, and the grandchildren, who are Sims Bray, Jr., Bobby Bray, little Miss Josephine Mobley Clapp, namesake of her grandmother; Raymond Demere, Jr., Bobby Mobley Demere, his grandfather's namesake, and Charles Clapp Demere, of Savannah. Mrs. Dossa Mobley Robinson, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Mobley; Mrs. A. M. Robinson, sister-in-law of the honored couple; Mr. and Mrs. Julian Robinson, great-nephew and niece of Mr. and Mrs. Mobley, and their little daughter, Mary Robinson, great-grand-niece, were among the great-grandchildren. Mrs. Mobley's golden wedding anniversary, as these representative citizens have contributed largely to the upbuilding and history of Atlanta and belong to that noble class of loyal residents who have watched its growth from a village to the great city of the present time.

Mrs. Mobley was formerly the lovely and attractive Miss Josephine Robinson, member of a very distinguished and prominent family. They moved to Atlanta 42 years ago from Social Circle, Ga., where they made their home right after their marriage, and Mr. Mobley became secretary and treasurer of A. M. Robinson and company, the late Mr. Robinson having been a brother of Mrs. Mobley. Throughout the day Mr. and Mrs. Mobley were recipients of hundreds of congratulatory messages sent by hosts of devoted friends throughout the country.

Major Young Will Revisit Scene of Crash During War

AMERICAN WAS SHOT DOWN BY AUSTRIANS

Washington, January 30.—(United News.)—Major Clarence M. Young, director of aeronautics of the commerce department, was preparing today to leave on an inspection trip of European airways, which will carry him over the exact spot where he was shot down by Austrian gunners ten years ago.

In 1918 Major Young was an American lieutenant attached to the Italian air corps. On June 28 his bombing squadron was ordered from Padua to fly over the Piave river.

His three-motored Caproni plane dived over the sand and mud flats. Watchful enemy gunners spotted it. Anti-aircraft bursts dotted the early afternoon sky. Suddenly there was a terrific roar. The Caproni tumbled madly, dropped 2,500 feet, turned upside down and righted itself 300 feet above the Austrian guns.

Major Young pulled frantically at his levers. The rudder had jammed. The bomber fluttered lower and lower until Young looked directly into the ugly snouts of up-turned cannon.

Twenty-five feet above the ground the plane stalled, hung for a brief second and crashed. Machine guns cut the wings of the Caproni to ribbons as Major Young and his three Italian companions threw themselves from the fuselage. Austrian soldiers surrounded the plane and Young was made prisoner of war.

Major Young has not flown over the Piave since that memorable day more than a decade ago. He is looking forward to the greatest thrill of his life when he crosses the old battle ground.

He will find the route he once followed on a mission of death to be one of the important peace airways of Europe, connecting Italy with her former enemy, Austria.

"Ever since the war, I have wanted to go back and fly over the territory where I was shot down," Major Young said. "My mission 10 years ago was one of destruction. Today it will be one of construction and commerce. And I am sure I will feel much better about it."

DR. BEESON TO SPEAK
Will Address Members of City Club at Luncheon.

Dr. J. W. Beeson, eminent educator and for 25 years head of one of the largest women's colleges in Mississippi, will be principal speaker at the regular meeting of the City club to be held in the Pine room of the Ansley hotel at 12:30 o'clock today. It was announced Wednesday by Judge E. C. Kontz, president of the club.

Dr. Beeson will speak on "The Modern Trend of Higher Education," an address which has been anticipated by members of the City club for several weeks.

Dante Circle Meets Friday At Woman's Club

The Dante circle meets Friday afternoon in the palm room at the Atlanta Woman's club, at 3 o'clock, with the president, Mrs. Enrico Leide, in the chair. Mrs. George N. Brower, who has recently returned from abroad, will tell of her visit to Italy.

Mrs. Leide will give a brief lesson in Italian and requests each member to bring pencil and paper.

Mrs. Josephine Camp will lead the following program: "Dante's Life," Mrs. George N. Brower; poem on the new life of Dante, Mrs. Enrico Leide; love scene from "Ingomar," Miss Imogene Camp; "Italian Art," Mrs. D. F. Stevenson.

Immediately after the meeting the members of the circle will be entertained at the regular monthly Dante tea, given in the banquet hall at the Woman's club. Each member is urged by Mrs. D. F. Stevenson, past president and honorary president, to call the club hosts, Mrs. Bailey, for reservations, Hemlock 4637.

NORTHCOTT ATTEMPTS TO CONFUTE ACCUSERS

Riverside, Calif., January 30.—(AP) Gordon Stewart Northcott, on trial for slaying three boys—Lewis and Nelson Winslow and an unidentified Mexican youth—today attempted to confute his accusers by showing "undue influence" and "intimidation" at the hands of the prosecution.

Acting as his own attorney, the young defendant recalled his father, Cyrus Northcott, to the stand and drew from the witness that, in previous declarations he had made which conflicted with his testimony yesterday, he had been "mentally intimidated" by officers who questioned him regarding the alleged murders on his son's chicken ranch.

The accused slayer also called as a witness his chief prosecutor, Chief Deputy District Attorney Earl C. Redwine, from whom he unsuccessfully attempted to adduce testimony that he (Northcott) had been unduly influenced when he had made previous confessions to the murder charges he is now fighting.

The defendant questioned the prosecutor for half an hour before excusing him. He intimated he would recall him later.

Redwine testified that he knew nothing of any "mental violence" or "physical force" being used to obtain the confession from Northcott. He declared the defendant had offered to plead guilty to the murder of the Mexican. He also said Northcott had requested many times to be tried in Riverside county instead of Los Angeles, although no reason for this preference was disclosed.

Daughter To Contest $40,000,000 Will Of Her Mother

New York, January 30.—(AP)—The Evening World says a battle to break the $40,000,000 will of Mrs. Margaret Huntington Smith McCarthy, grand-daughter of John Huntington, pioneer Cleveland oil man, loomed today in probate court at Greenwich, Conn.

Miss Margaret, 18-year-old daughter of Mrs. McCarthy by the first of her three husbands, has engaged counsel to contest the will, which was drawn January 9, two days before Mrs. McCarthy's death. It was her third will.

Social Items

Dr. Sam Cole, Dr. Roy Mitchell and Dr. and Mrs. Frank Lamons left Wednesday for Macon, where they will attend the annual meeting of the Southern Orthodontic society.

Mrs. W. A. Clarke is spending a few days in Athens during the absence of Dr. Clarke in Macon, where he is attending the annual meeting of the Southern Orthodontic society.

Mr. Wolman today will visit General Richmond F. Davis, commander of the fourth corps area and also U. S. Base Hospital 48.

FIGHT OF CHILD FOR LIFE APPEARS WON AFTER 12 DAYS

Perry, Kan., January 30.—(United News.)—Natural respiration returned to Margaret Brown, 7, today and the constant vigil maintained by her for 12 days and nights to sustain life in her body by means of a thin stream of oxygen, was abandoned tonight for the first time. She was stricken with pneumonia.

As her condition was improved today, the attending physicians, Dr. C. J. Bliss and Dr. W. C. Belknap, decided that services of the two firemen, who worked in 12-hour shifts, could be dispensed with tonight.

With Margaret resuming natural breathing for the first time late Tuesday night, her doctors removed the mask through which she had been receiving the oxygen. No ill effects resulted and the mask was removed permanently.

"She still is a sick girl but her chances of recovery are fair," Dr. Belknap said, adding that if she showed improvement for another day, her recovery was assured.

C. of C. Contest Features National Better Dance Week

The dance demonstration given on Tuesday evening in Hall No. 1 of the chamber of commerce was the outstanding event of National Better Dance week, which is sponsored for Atlanta by the Woman's Division of the chamber of commerce.

Mrs. Lillian A. Dove, teacher of the class announced the program which was put on by the division class in correct ballroom dancing. It was announced that beginning next week the class will take up the modern Spanish dances, which are proving so popular.

The program included an attractive solo dance, "Morning Glories," by Miss Juliette Edwards. Novelty dances were given by Homer Murdoch and Paul Terry. An interesting feature of the program were waltz contests in which the entire class took part. The judges were Mrs. F. M. Weston, B. S. Barker and Paul Seydel. Prizes were presented to the three winning couples by Mayor I. N. Ragsdale. Punch was served and general dancing followed the close of the program.

Studio Club Meets Thursday

The Studio club meets at the club rooms, 104 1-2 Forsyth street, Thursday evening, January 31, at 8 o'clock. The by-laws will be explained briefly to the membership and approval will be sought. For the benefit of those desiring to acquaint themselves with the provisions of the by-laws in detail, a copy is posted at the club for general inspection. A nominating committee, to nominate officers for the coming year to be elected in May, will be announced. There will be a few brief reports from the officers and an opportunity for a general discussion of club affairs. It is desired, however, to make the business meeting as brief as possible so as to allow some opportunity for members to become better acquainted. The entertainment committee will provide light refreshments.

This is the first general meeting of the club since the election of permanent officers and a full attendance is urged.

Now You Can Reduce 2 to 4 Lbs. in a Night

Eat what you please
Wear what you please
Do what you please
Take no risky medicine

Thousands of smart women have found this easy way to take off 2 to 4 pounds once or twice a week. These women take refreshing Fayro baths in the privacy of their own homes. Fayro is the concentrate of the same natural mineral salts that make effective the waters of twenty-two hot springs of America, England and Continental Europe. For years the spas and hot springs bathing resorts have been the retreat of fair women and well-groomed men. Excess weight has been removed, skins have been made more lovely, bodies more shapely and minds brighter.

The Hot Springs Are Now Brought to You

A study of the analyses of the active ingredients of the water from twenty-two of the most famous springs have taught us the secret of their effectiveness. You can now have all these benefits in your own bath. Merely put Fayro into your hot bath. It dissolves rapidly. You will notice and enjoy the pungent fragrance of its balsam oils and clean salts.

Then, Fayro, by opening your pores and stimulating perspiration forces lazy body cells to sweat out surplus fat and bodily poisons. Add Fayro to your bath at night and immediately you will lose from 2 to 4 pounds in an easy, refreshing and absolutely harmless manner.

Your physician will tell you that Fayro is certain to do the work and that it is absolutely harmless. Fayro will refresh you and help your body throw off worn-out fat and bodily poisons. Your skin will be clearer and smoother. You will sleep better after your Fayro bath and awaken feeling as though you had enjoyed a week's vacation.

Lose Weight Where You Most Want To

Fayro reduces weight generally, but you can also concentrate its effect on abdomen, hips, legs, ankles, chin or any part of the body you may wish.

Results Are Immediate

Weigh yourself before and after your Fayro bath. You will find you have lost from 2 to 4 pounds. And a few nights later when you again add Fayro to your bath, you will once more reduce your weight. Soon you will be the correct weight for your height. No need to deny yourself food you really want. No need for violent exercise. No need for drugs or medicines. Merely a refreshing Fayro bath in the privacy of your own home.

Try Fayro at Our Risk

The price of Fayro is $1.00 a package. Inside each package you get an interesting booklet, "Health and Open Pores."

For Sale at Jacobs' Drug Store and at all drug and toilet counters.

If your dealer is unable to supply you, Fayro will be mailed direct to a plain, unmarked package upon receipt of price. Fayro Inc., 525 Locust St., Pittsburgh, Pa.

HERE'S PROOF

Read what Fayro Baths have done for others.

"Three Fayro baths reduced my weight 11 pounds in 4 days. I feel better than I have felt for years."

"I weigh 16 pounds less and feel you up and sleep better. Fayro is wonderful."

"My double chin vanished in the magic of Fayro baths."

"My hips were always the prominent part of my figure. I have lost 12 pounds."

"Thank you for Fayro. I lost 16 pounds in three weeks. I feel better and certainly look better."

"Since childhood my thick ankles have always been a source of embarrassment. Fayro baths have reduced them beautifully. Thank you very much."

For obvious reasons, names are not quoted, but every letter published has been authorized and addressed and will be given on request.

Worst Winter in Years Engulfs Northern States

DEEP SNOWS CAUSE MANY TRAGEDIES

Milwaukee, January 30.—(AP)—The conversation broomed, "we aren't having the winters we used to have," has been frozen stiff and buried under tons of snow in the Wisconsin and Michigan northlands. One of the worst winter seasons that have been wintered for days and weeks, some life of the season's severity was realized.

Keweenaw, Wis., was one of the places where the oldest residents were ready to admit that never before, in their memory, had there been such a winter.

No Keweenaw was better able to attest the severity of the weather than Dr. W. M. Woelke. One of his experiences became known today. At dawn, with the temperature far below zero, Dr. Woelke received a telephone call from the Eugene Beaurain home, nine miles away.

Dr. Woelke, bundled in woollens and carrying his instrument case in many-mittened hands, pressed ahead on foot, fighting bitter cold and snow that was waist high in places. After several hours he stumbled exhausted and nearly frozen into the Beaurain home.

The stork had beaten him, and Mrs. Beaurain and a baby girl were doing as well as though the doctor had been there on time.

Death Beats This Doctor.

Death as well as birth has written its story in the snows. At the Trail's End clubhouse near Stoughton, Mich., William Herron, the caretaker, despite a five-mile journey on snowshoes by Dr. A. R. Tucker, of Manistique.

As though death itself were not tragedy enough, further hardships and dangers presented themselves to Herron's widow and her son. Wrapping Herron's body in blankets, the woman and her boy placed it on a toboggan and started with it across the wind-swept drifts to the nearest undertaker's.

Night overtook them as, floundering through the deep snow, they staggered slowly ahead, dragging the toboggan and its cargo of death. They became lost and nearly perished.

A little white dog was their salvation. The animal, of the three living beings moving across the desolate northland, was the only one who appeared to know a way out. Spent, worn and exhausted by the exertion of bucking the snow and dragging the toboggan, these three arrived at midnight at a settler's shack.

Rested and given aid, Mrs. Herron and her son reached Manistique the following day.

GEORGIA U. D. C. PLANS $100,000 CAMPAIGN

BY CHARLES MARTIN.

Athens, Ga., January 30.—(Special.)—Members of the executive board of the Georgia division, U. D. C., meeting at the University here today upon invitation of Chancellor C. M. Snelling, voted to launch a $100,000 campaign at an early date for the purpose of building a memorial on the university campus to Miss Millie Ruthertford, noted southern woman.

A luncheon at Memorial hall on the campus was tendered the executive board by the university. Chancellor Snelling presided. The business session was held by the board after the luncheon, with Mrs. Trox Bankston president, of Covington, presiding.

At the business meeting the executive board adopted a suggestion by Mrs. John A. Furdue, of Atlanta, to request the Georgia legislature to amend the law governing the operation of the Confederate Veteran home in Atlanta allowing the wives of veterans to make their homes there. It was pointed out that the number of inmates of the homes had been greatly reduced in recent months by deaths, thus leaving a number of rooms that could be occupied by the wives of veterans.

Mrs. Oscar McKenzie, of Montezuma, who is now first vice president of the U. D. C., was unanimously endorsed by the board for the national presidency-general.

St. Mary's Church Has Linen Piece 104 Years Old

St. Mary's, Ga., January 30.—(Special.)—An old linen table cloth, hand woven and bearing the date in faded letters 1820, has been in constant use at the old and renowned Presbyterian church here. It is used and has been in constant use for more than a hundred years at the communion services. It is woven in block design and the finest of linen threads used in the weaving. There is not a broken place nor broken thread in the whole cloth.

AL SMITH GOES WITH 2 FRIENDS AT CORAL GABLES

Coral Gables, Fla., January 30.—(AP)—Golf on the Miami Biltmore course occupied today the attention of former Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York, and his two friends, John J. Raskob, chairman of the national democratic committee, and William F. Kenney.

The former governor and presidential nominee in the last general election enjoyed his game, it was said, but scores of the threesome were not given out. He passed the day in the vicinity of his hotel here.

He will be the guest of honor at "Al Smith day" at the Hialeah track of the Miami Jockey club tomorrow, where he will be taken shortly after noon by Joseph M. Snoot, president of the Jockey club and a close personal friend.

Mr. Smith had planned to attend the races yesterday, but was forced to abandon the trip by a heavy rain.

Rev. Abbott Elected.

Lexington, Ky., January 30.—(AP)—The Rev. H. P. Abbott, D. D., rector of Christ the King church, Chicago, was elected bishop of the Lexington diocese of the Episcopal church at a special session here tonight. He succeeds the Right Rev. Lewis W. Burston, D. D., who retired today after 33 years in that capacity.

RADIO WAVES' GRANT SPURS HOUSE DEBATE

Washington, January 30.—(AP)—Attacks on the integrity of some of the backers of the Universal Wireless company, of Buffalo, N. Y., in a letter to the house merchant marine committee met quick response today from Representatives Dempsey, republican, and Mead, democrat, both of New York.

During the testimony of Commissioner H. A. LaFont on the bill to continue the life of the federal radio commission, Representative Free, republican, California, began a cross-examination into the granting of 40 short wave frequencies to the Universal company for domestic radio communication.

Free said that the company had been represented in Washington by Dr. John Nathanson, of Buffalo, who, he said, "was a lobbyist." The California also declared that wives of certain commissioners had been sent flowers through Nathanson and that employees at the commission had been given candy.

LaFont said that Nathanson had distributed candy and flowers to employees at the commission but denied that any flowers had been sent to his home by Nathanson.

Dempsey and Mead then appeared and requested an opportunity to speak in behalf of the backers of the Universal company. Dempsey said four of the directors were leaders in financial and business life in northern New York, while Mead testified that all of them were held in high esteem in Buffalo and were financially responsible.

LaFont testified that before the commission granted the short wave lengths he personally investigated the financial responsibility of the backers and found them capable, while the commission's technical experts found their apparatus satisfactory for point to point radio communication.

"Before My Baby Came"

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound puts new life into me and makes my work in the store and in the house easier. I took several bottles before my baby came and am always singing its praises to my friends. I recommend it for girls and women of all ages. It makes me feel like life is worth living, my nerves are better and I have gained pep and feel well and strong."—Mrs. A. R. Smith, 808 S. Lansing Street, St. Johns, Michigan.

CARAWAY ASKS PUBLIC LIST OF VOTE ON WEST

Terms Senator Who Gave Out Data Worse Than Benedict Arnold.

Washington, January 30.—(United News.)—A spirited debate of the senate's policy respecting secret sessions was precipitated today when Senator Caraway, Arkansas, democrat, appealed to his colleagues to make public all votes on the confirmation of Secretary of Interior West.

Terming the senator who gave information concerning the vote on West to the United News "worse than Benedict Arnold," he asked that "the whole proceedings concerning the nomination be made public." His appeal went unanswered.

Senator Glass, Virginia, democrat, charged the vote as published by the United News was not correct. Senator Ashurst, democrat, Arizona, added:

"It is scandalously incorrect." Senator Curtis, Kansas, republican, asked the senate to proceed with confidence bills and defer further discussion of the secret vote until tomorrow.

Discussion revolved around an amendment offered by Senator Jones, Washington, to abolish secret senate sessions. Jones agreed to Curtis' request.

Would Honor Mallon.

Reading an editorial from the Louisville Times advocating award of the Pulitzer prize for the outstanding journalistic achievement of the year to Paul R. Mallon, the United News correspondent who obtained the vote on West, Senator Dill, Washington, democrat, protested against further delay.

He read with particular emphasis the portion of the editorial stating: "What column of news could accomplish more good than a column in which the senate, who tried to go into a hole to vote upon seating a cabinet officer, and tried to pull the hole in after them, were dragged swiftly into daylight, writhing and spluttering."

"If this sort of article is being printed we ought to take action now on the change of this rule," Dill declared. "If my colleague's amendment is sent to the rules committee (as Curtis had proposed) it will sleep there."

Hits Senator's Honor.

Curtis denied this and said the rules committee had not acted on the change because no one had requested it.

"Everybody in the senate knows why the proceedings were not made public," Caraway then said.

"Everybody knows my position on the secrecy question. I can't imagine a senator so far forgetting his honor if he ever had any, as to let the roll call become public, without also making public the votes which preceded it. Why not make public the whole thing?"

"I don't know any useful purpose for secrecy. I think we ought to abolish the rule because I don't want to put a premium on a man without honor."

The report of the West roll call as carried exclusively by the United News last week was obtained from entirely trustworthy and legitimate sources. One senator has said that the United News informant misrepresented his position but he declined to authorize the United News to publish any statement as to his vote. No other senator had challenged the listing of his vote.

MIDDLE GEORGIA FAIR GROUNDS TO BE ENLARGED

Milledgeville, Ga., January 30.—(Special.)—The Middle Georgia District fair is to greatly enlarge and improve the fair grounds here before this year's fair, in accordance with plans formulated by the board of directors at a meeting Tuesday night. Director T. B. Dumas was authorized to purchase and rent additional land adjoining the present fair grounds in order to have more space available for future fairs.

Improvements are also to be made in the waterworks and sewerage systems on the fair grounds during the year. This year's fair will be held the entire week of October 7.

Women today wouldn't wear this smart millinery creation of a few years back

Then why?

The Baffle Stories

The Mystery of Haji Lal Deb

NUMBER 26

No land offers more bizarre and ingenious crimes and concealments of crimes than India. Naturally subtle, the Oriental mind, when it does turn to crime, manages sometimes to baffle the authorities rather neatly. Until as late as 1880 British rule in India had not become adept in fighting the elaborate system of high-way robbery, gang thieving (deceit), and professional poisoning which had been spreading virtually unchecked for many years. British detectives in the Indian service were confronted with strange conditions among strange peoples. Gradually they learned how to cope with Indian crime.

The following problem in crime detection is based on an extract from the case book of Deputy Superintendent Hardesty Mainwaring of the Bombay district, who later rose to head the metropolitan police of London. In his "Looking Backward" (Methuen, Ltd., London, 1905), the famous investigator writes:

"Late in the summer of 1870, shortly after my first colonial appointment, I was requested by the native officer at Bunoora to advise on a baffling case which was arousing considerable excitement in that village. 'Some ten days previously a well-to-do merchant of the village had vanished mysteriously one night when he was known to be carrying a sizeable sum in rupees. No word having come from him the morning after his disappearance, the merchant's widow had raised a hue and cry with the local authorities. There was some reason to suspect that the man had been done away with, for murder to gain a few rupees was common enough at that time—and the merchant was a tempting bait to the professional poisoners operating in the district.'

"Among others upon whom a certain measure of suspicion rested was a former servant in the household of the merchant, one Haji Lal Deb. Several months previously he had been discharged on suspicion of stealing foodstuffs, and although the authorities had nothing definite to go on they instinctively had reached the conclusion that Haji Lal Deb knew something of the matter.

"However, 'knowing' and 'proving' in India are two very different things. The former servant was a stone wall when it came to giving information as to the whereabouts of the merchant. He convinced the native officer that he had not the slightest idea of what could have happened in the affair. No less than seven relatives and friends staunchly supported his statements, and nothing came of the questioning. Nor were the authorities more successful in their quest at other sources.

"But on the day of my arrival at Bunoora—some two weeks after the disappearance—a native woman of the village came to the local investigating officer with the following story. She assigned as her reason for not having come sooner that she had been ill and had heard nothing of the gossip of the disappearance.

"Very early in the morning of the day following the disappearance of the merchant, she recalled, she had encountered Haji Lal Deb walking rapidly away from a certain isolated district on the outskirts of the town carrying a sash over his shoulder. He was in a hurry to visit her brother, who was ill of the plague then afflicting the district, and had thought nothing of the incident. Haji Lal Deb, she remembered, was walking toward his brother's house in the outskirts of the village.

"With something of a gleam of triumph in our eyes, the local investigating officer and I proceeded immediately to the hut and there found Haji Lal Deb—as calm, impressive, and innocent looking an old native as you could imagine.

"To our amazement he admitted readily enough that he had been walking in the spot described at the time described, and carrying a sash. But he knew nothing of the rich merchant, said he; he had been engaged on the sad errand of burying his wife's cousin, an aged man who died of the plague the night previous. And would Sahib not believe him? Come, he would show Sahib the very grave. 'Now it was perfectly true that the fellow might be telling the truth. The natives had been dying off like flies at this time, and there was nothing unusual about a hurried burial of a body, under the emergency conditions then obtaining. Indeed, to prevent spread of the disease, prompt burials would have been essential. The native officer recalled the report that a relative in the house of Haji Lal Deb had died about the time of the disappearance of the merchant, and duly noted that the household had engaged in observance of suitable rites of mourning.

"However, it seemed the part of prudence to check the story, and accordingly we allowed Haji Lal Deb to lead us to the spot where the aged relative had been buried. To our astonishment—for I had come to suspect the fellow—our spadesmen had not dug more than three feet down when they came upon the body of an aged native. Most likely he had died of the plague, and there could be no missing merchant had been a stout fellow in the prime of life.

"I had never felt more 'sold' in my life. The local officer and I were indeed so moved that we pressed a few rupees on Haji Lal Deb, and with some words of apology retired to seek solution of the mystery elsewhere. There were some trifling clues which we thought might lead somewhere along other trails, and we were engaged in sifting these in their possible relation to other suspects when suddenly we received a bit of information which I recognized as of the greatest importance. It was given to me by the son of a neighbor of Haji Lal Deb who happened to overhear us lamenting the fruitlessness of our expedition the morning.

"The aged cousin told me that Haji Lal Deb, we learned, had died the day before the disappearance of the merchant, not on the night of the disappearance.

How Deputy Superintendent Mainwaring solved the mystery and fastened the guilt upon Haji Lal Deb is one of the classics of crime detection in the Bombay district.

The questions to be answered are:
1. Why did Mainwaring suspect that Haji was guilty?
2. By what step did he prove the guilt?

Note: The solution to the above problem is printed herewith up-to-date down so that the reader will be enabled to follow his own deductions, before referring to the published answer.

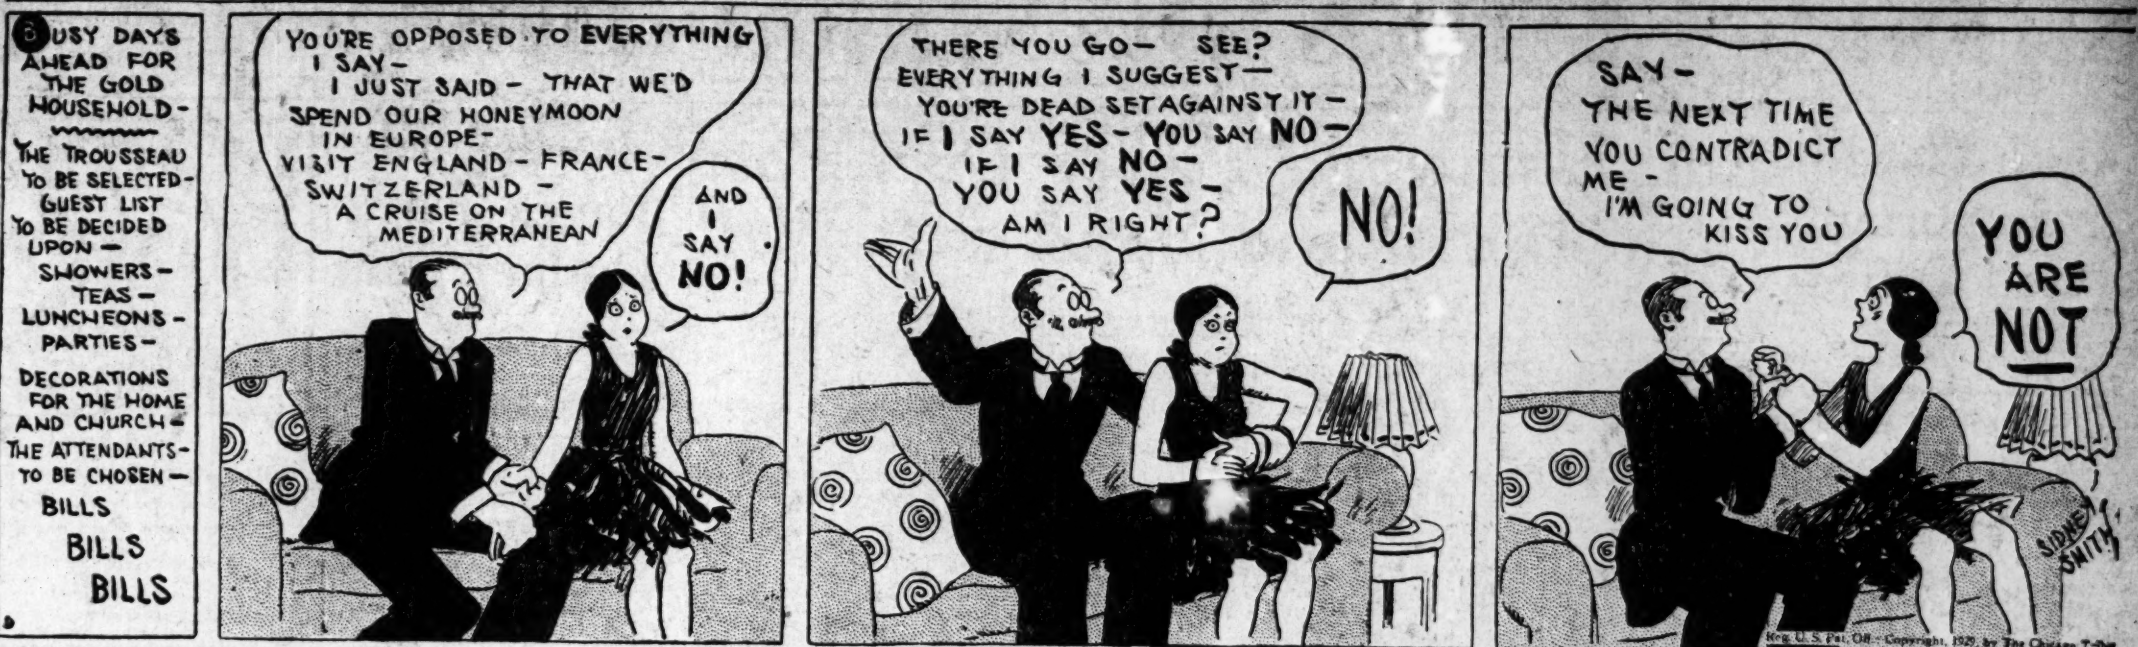

complicated broke down as follows: (1) The merchant was a stone wall when it came to giving information as to the whereabouts of the merchant. He convinced the native officer that he had not the slightest idea of what could have happened in the affair. No less than seven relatives and friends staunchly supported his statements, and nothing came of the questioning. Nor were the authorities more successful in their quest at other sources. (2) But on the day of my arrival at Bunoora—some two weeks after the disappearance—a native woman of the village came to the local investigating officer with the following story. She assigned as her reason for not having come sooner that she had been ill and had heard nothing of the gossip of the disappearance. (3) Very early in the morning of the day following the disappearance of the merchant, she recalled, she had encountered Haji Lal Deb walking rapidly away from a certain isolated district on the outskirts of the town carrying a sash over his shoulder. He was in a hurry to visit her brother, who was ill of the plague then afflicting the district, and had thought nothing of the incident. Haji Lal Deb, she remembered, was walking toward his brother's house in the outskirts of the village. (4) With something of a gleam of triumph in our eyes, the local investigating officer and I proceeded immediately to the hut and there found Haji Lal Deb—as calm, impressive, and innocent looking an old native as you could imagine. (5) To our amazement he admitted readily enough that he had been walking in the spot described at the time described, and carrying a sash. But he knew nothing of the rich merchant, said he; he had been engaged on the sad errand of burying his wife's cousin, an aged man who died of the plague the night previous. And would Sahib not believe him? Come, he would show Sahib the very grave. (6) 'Now it was perfectly true that the fellow might be telling the truth. The natives had been dying off like flies at this time, and there was nothing unusual about a hurried burial of a body, under the emergency conditions then obtaining. Indeed, to prevent spread of the disease, prompt burials would have been essential. The native officer recalled the report that a relative in the house of Haji Lal Deb had died about the time of the disappearance of the merchant, and duly noted that the household had engaged in observance of suitable rites of mourning. (7) However, it seemed the part of prudence to check the story, and accordingly we allowed Haji Lal Deb to lead us to the spot where the aged relative had been buried. To our astonishment—for I had come to suspect the fellow—our spadesmen had not dug more than three feet down when they came upon the body of an aged native. Most likely he had died of the plague, and there could be no missing merchant had been a stout fellow in the prime of life. (8) I had never felt more 'sold' in my life. The local officer and I were indeed so moved that we pressed a few rupees on Haji Lal Deb, and with some words of apology retired to seek solution of the mystery elsewhere. There were some trifling clues which we thought might lead somewhere along other trails, and we were engaged in sifting these in their possible relation to other suspects when suddenly we received a bit of information which I recognized as of the greatest importance. It was given to me by the son of a neighbor of Haji Lal Deb who happened to overhear us lamenting the fruitlessness of our expedition the morning. (9) The aged cousin told me that Haji Lal Deb, we learned, had died the day before the disappearance of the merchant, not on the night of the disappearance.

World Champion Rosenblums Play Penn-Dixie Tonight

Old Celtic Performers Are on Team

Cleveland Five Expected To Draw Large Crowd for Auditorium Tilt.

Worthy successors of the famous Celtics and rated by many as superior to that organization, the Cleveland, Ohio, Rosenblums will play the crack Penn-Dixie Centers of Chattanooga tonight on the auditorium court. Attendance who remember the bewildering exhibition of basketball magic given by the Celtics last year can prepare for a repetition of that performance plus some added speed and cunning.

The Celtics, like the old Athletics, became an all-star aggregation in their years together and every man wanted top salary with the result that even the major basketball league "gates" of from 3,000 to 10,000 people nightly wouldn't foot the bill. So the famous old team split, part going to the Rosenblums, part to Fort Payne and another section to New York.

Cream of Flock.

The Rosenblums obtained the cream of the flock in Dutch Dehnert, Joe Lapchick and Pete Barry, and with a sensational forward, one Husta, already a member of the team, became the monarchs of the basketball world from the very start of the present campaign. No other team in the American league can cope with them, either in scoring or in spectacular passing and floor play.

The really marvelous performance revolves around "Dutch" Dehnert, former Celtic center, who pivots nearly all of the trick passing by which opposing players and spectators alike are made to wonder how the ball gets to the places it suddenly occupies. The passes rarely go where they are apparently headed, the passer almost invariably looking in a different direction and making a motion more or less opposite to the route the ball finally takes.

Lapchick, the man who can palm a basketball like the magician palms a dollar, is a powerful member of the machine as is Pete Barry, but right up with them in the thrall of the play is Husta, leading scorer of the team and the world's best basket shooter. It is a bad night for him when he doesn't average as high as nine shots out of ten—in words, one miss a night is the average and two misses make a bad night.

Flying Trip.

The Rosies are making a flying five-night trip through the south. They played the Sole Owner Tigers at Memphis Monday night, drawing the largest crowd that ever witnessed a basketball game in that city. They played the state teachers' team at Murfreesboro Tuesday night, the Nashville Post last night, Tomorrow night they battle the Rail-Lites in Chattanooga and then they beat it back to Cleveland to resume their league schedule Sunday.

Opposed to the Rosies will be the Penn-Dixie Centers, of Chattanooga, who conquered Georgia Tech early in the season and are one of Chattanooga's "Big Three." Rail-Lites and Y. M. H. A. Jubs being the other two teams. The three are just about equal in speed and the Centers are strong enough to furnish the opposition needed to give the foundation for the spectacular exhibition of the Rosies.

As a preliminary to the game tonight, the Western Heights Baptist girls' team will meet the famous Elberfeld Sisters, of Chattanooga. This curtain-raiser is scheduled to get under way at 7:30 o'clock and will be followed by the feature game.

The Western Heights team is one of the strongest outfits in the city and state. Besides leading the Cherokee league, of which it is a member, the girls have won their last seven starts.

ROSENBLUMS WIN AT NASHVILLE.

Nashville, Tenn., January 30.—(AP) The Rosenblums, professional basketball players, crushed the Nashville Peps here tonight easily by a 45-to-33 score. The Rosenblum team allowed the Peps to score ahead in the first part of the game with a 5-to-0 margin, taking only three shots at the net in the first five minutes. Then Husta pocketed a foul, Dehnert added

Earle Sande, Premier Jockey, Will Ride Winner (He Hopes) in Kentucky Derby

Washington, January 30.—(United Press.)—Love of the saddle has drawn Earle Sande, acclaimed in racing circles as the greatest jockey of the generation, back to the turf.

The slight, modest rider whose remarkable judge of pace and natural horsemanship brought his employers more than $2,000,000 in 10 years, is now back to the Kentucky derby this year, he told the United Press tonight.

"I hope to be able to run in Maryland and Illinois," Sande said. "It may be the track rules won't permit it, because I am an owner. I certainly intend to ride in the Kentucky derby, however."

Weights 116 Pounds.

Sande deserted the saddle on September 15, 1928. He was having trouble making a desired weight. Dieting, he felt, was injuring his health. He now weighs 116 pounds—three pounds more than when he stepped from the saddle and hopes to lose at least five pounds of that in training.

"Keeping fit," Sande said, consists of riding at Bowie when the weather is favorable and indulging in strenuous weight-reducing exercises.

News of Sande's intended return to the saddle was favorably received in racing circles, where his career has been as colorful as the spectacular races he has run.

From a rider of horses at western fairs, Sande in a decade became America's premier jockey.

In 1922 he rode Zet, famous Ranocas colt, to win the Kentucky derby, and repeated in 1925 with one leg up on Flying Ebony.

Shortly after this he was injured on the track at Saratoga and rushed to a hospital where his life was despaired of. Even though the broken bones mended, skilled surgeons said Sande would never ride again.

Returns to Track.

But under the watchful care of his wife, a niece of Sam Hildreth, famous trainer of the Harry F. Sinclair stables, Sande returned to the track in April, 1927.

Word that Sande would ride the famous colt Sarazan at Havre de Grace brought thousands to the track. Many wondered if the tradition of the track would hold good and if Sande's nerve would be affected by his accident.

The race was one of the most spectacular in his career. Although his mount went away to a poor start he clipped two-fifths of a second off the six-furlong record. The crowd acclaimed Sande.

He was ruled out of Pimlico in 1927 on charges of "crowding" but later was reinstated.

J. P. C. Beats Dalton Team by 60-18 Count

Reds Win Over Firemen's Fund, 43-17; North Georgians Score Three Points in First Half.

Wednesday night seemed to be made to order for the followers of the two J. P. C. quintets. The Dalton A. C. proved to be the softest kind of pickings for the big squad, who tacked up a 60-18 victory, while the preliminary fray the Reds came out on the long end of a 43-17 count with the Firemen's Fund furnishing the opposition.

BY HERB CLARK.

The big squad had things absolutely its own way in the affair with Dalton. The Pryor Street crew started with a six-point rush. The sinking of a free throw by J. Wrinkle broke the ice for Dalton, but it was his last point for the length of time it took the J's to run their total to 20. Here two more fouls were converted by Dalton, and this completed the visitors' scoring for the first frame, the Pryor Street outfit easing out on the big end of a 26-to-3 count.

In the second half a little lead by the name of McCutcheon was inserted into the Dalton lineup and he threatened to give the home boys a real fight for a time, but he was shut off after sinking two pretty tosses from the field.

His success instilled a semblance of life into the Dalton crowd, however, the boys limbering up to start a drive. J. P. C. also put in some new blood where the old was losing its effectiveness and points started to pile up again.

The J's were taking few chances from the center of the court in the earlier moments of the contest, but as they began to get their collective eyes on the location of the hoop the ball started arcing from all angles, and most of the tries fell through. But four points were added to the J. P. C. total via the four route.

And it was not until the fourth quarter that Dalton had found its way to the hoop at their end of the court, and began to garner markers, with the result that their total for the second half was just five times as good as that for the first period.

The J's had little difficulty in running the score to its final 60-18 status.

Friedland and D. Spelberger divided the scoring honors for the J. P. C. Rosenberg and Blass also looked well for the J's, while Calhoun and McCutcheon were the class of the visiting aggregation.

Reds Win Easily.

In the curtain-raiser, the Reds had as easy a time of it as the big squad had in their fray. They set out with a bang, and led the scoring at the half-way mark by 23 to 6. The Firemen were completely without an eye for the basket from the field, and the Reds had the closer territory well covered.

The Firemen found the goal in the second period, but it was too late, then to do any real good, and they were forced to be content with the lower end of the 43-17 verdict.

Herman, with 23 points, and Morris were the stars for the Reds, while Davis and Moon led the opposition forces.

Braves Book 29 Games For Spring Training

Boston, January 30.—(AP)—The Boston Braves spring training schedule, announced today, called for 29 games, including seven with the New York Yankees and as many with the Philadelphia Athletics.

Practice games also have been scheduled with the Boston Red Sox, Washington Senators, St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn.

The Braves arrive at St. Petersburg, Fla., on February 17, and will start north on March 27. On the return trip, stops have been scheduled for Columbia, S. C., Richmond and Norfolk, Va.

Champion Has Narrow Escape in Bermuda Play

Hamilton, Bermuda, January 30.—(AP)—The narrow escape of A. C. N. Gosling, defending champion, from elimination, and final rounds by R. L. Babcock, of Oakland and Nicol Thompson, Jr., of the Hamilton Golf Club of Canada, featured the opening round in Bermuda amateur championship at Riddell's Bay club today.

Gosling, caught off his stride, was carried to the nineteenth hole by Gordon Montague, a local player. Thompson's 74 was low and represented fine golf considering the windy conditions. Babcock had a 75.

G. W. West, of Bermuda, medalist last year, lost a 19-hole match to G. Costello, of Seaview club, Atlantic City.

Georgia Wins Fast Contest From Staters

Lead Changes Eight Times Before Wolfpack Is Subdued by 45-37 Score.

BY BOB SHERROD.

Athens, Ga., January 30.—The tide turned for Georgia tonight as the Bulldogs won a hair-raising contest from North Carolina State, 45 to 37.

It was anybody's basketball game until the last few minutes of play, when Harris, Sanford, and Palmer pulled the Red and Black from the low end of the score.

The lead in this basketball game changed hands no less than eight times which had the effect of keeping the crowd on its toes as only a close battle can do.

North Carolina State held the lead all during the first half until less than one minute of play when two goals by the veteran, Joe Martin, and one by Palmer gave the Bulldogs a one-point advantage.

Palmer and Martin.

Palmer and Martin and Haas, State forward, showed the way during the first period, each of the three scoring eight points during that time.

But the Staters came out with a purpose in view at the beginning of the second 20-minute period and before two minutes had passed Haas, Young, and Goodwin had given them a three-point lead. Then Martin and Sanford scored a goal apiece to put the Bulldogs ahead again.

Anderson sunk another, but Goodwin and Young again tallied to change the lead, 28 to 27. Sanford retaliated and made it 29 to 28 in favor of the Bulldogs. Haas was heard from to give the Staters their one-point margin again while Goodwin made it 32 to 29 in North Carolina's favor.

Georgia Stages Rally.

There were seven minutes to play when the Georgia quintet really got under way. Jimmy Harris sank two field goals in rapid succession to make the home team one point to the good, 33 to 32. This was the last time the lead swapped hands.

After that last goal, which sent the Georgia supporters into fits of ecstasy, Sanford rang up six more points, Palmer four, and Harris two. Atkinson, Young, and Owens combined to give the visitors five points which came after the Bulldogs had piled up a good lead.

The Georgians played what was by far their best game of the year. No other team could handle the five dogs. Tail Joe Martin started instead of Reeder, starred with Anderson at defending the Georgia goal, and scored 10 points himself.

Sanford, Young, and Miller, while Palmer was two points behind with 12 to his credit.

Tricky Passing Team.

State's quintet presented the trickiest passing outfit seen here this year as well as the fastest.

The last few minutes of play the visitors tried but very few shots that did not mean points. Haas at forward, and Goodwin, center, were outstanding, the latter rarely failed to get the tip-off for his team. After he had put the ball into teammates' hands, it was a matter for Georgia to prevent a score.

Turnesa Is Victor In Miami Match

Miami, Fla., January 30.—(AP)—Joe Turnesa and Joe Mazzotti, both of Elmford, N. Y., won the first bracket match in the Miami open bracket tournament at the Miami Country club course this afternoon when they defeated Henry Sullivan, Lima, Ohio, and Lloyd Gullickson, Cleveland, 2 and 1.

Other upper bracket matches ended in follows: Herman Barron, Port Chester, N. Y., and George O'Connell, New York, defeated Dave Spittal, New York, and Jack Hagen, Garden City, N. Y., 2 and 1.

West, Fla., and Alex Ayton, Springfield, Ill., won their match with C. McAllister, Miami, and Louis Costello, New Rochelle, N. Y., 2 and 1.

Kenney, Toledo, and Harry Crim, Miami, were defeated yesterday by Mike Brady, Mamaroneck, N. Y., and Eddie Williams, Cleveland, in a match played before rain halted the game yesterday.

In the lower bracket, Eddie Lund, Fairfield, Conn., and George Moore, Ridgewood, N. J., defeated Johnny Connell, Chicago, and Charlie Paiman, Kokomo, Ind., 1 up; P. O. Hart, Wheeling, W. Va., and W. J. Derr, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., defeated Mike Turnesa, Elmford, N. Y., and Wilfred Reid, Detroit, 1 up; Charlie Rice, Summit, N. J., and Frank Collins, Dayton, Ohio, defeated Bill Paiman, Miami, and Joe Ford, New York, 4-3; Willie Dow, Fargo, N. D., and Jim Dante, Chicago, defeated Mike Brady, Endicott, N. Y., and Fred Howe, New York, 5-4.

Sam Sherman Victor In Shoot at Brunswick

Brunswick, Ga., January 30.—(AP) Sam Sherman, of Salt Lake City, Utah, won the Georgia introductory, opening shot of the Sea Island company transpooting tournament at Glynn Island today when, after trying with Vassa Cafe, Brunswick, he broke 24 out of 25 targets in the shoot-off.

Sharnan and Cate both scored 37 out of a possible 100 in the introductory round. Sherman broke 21 targets for first place. Cate broke 21 targets in the shoot-off.

Guy Dearing, of Columbus, Wis., president of the American Transpooters' association, won the doubles, the only other event of the day, when he scored 44 out of a possible 50.

The shoot will continue through Friday.

Stein Bowls Record In St. Louis Match

St. Louis, January 30.—(AP)—Otto Stein, Jr., of St. Louis, bowling the first ten games of a 40-game match with Roy Nelson here today, rolled 2,419 pins with a low score of 279 and a low game of 212. He had 78 strikes, 25 spares, five splits of which he picked two, and not an error. Nelson rolled 2,114.

Stein was the highest ten-game block ever bowled in St. Louis and local bowling authorities expressed belief it was a world record.

Wolfpack's Ace

A. P. C. TEAM IS TROUNCED BY PRO QUINT

Parks-Chambers Bluebirds downed the A. P. C. Leaders Wednesday night on the Jewish Alliance court, 32-25. This was the first defeat the Leaders have suffered in two years.

The Leaders put up a stiff fight throughout the fray, but were unable to cope with the more experienced team.

The Bluebird aggregation had things their way during the first half, but in the second stanza the Leaders came to life, taking advantage of every break.

Jim Beasley and Tom Angley were the shining lights in the scoring for the victors. The former with his fast dribbling and short shots and Tom with his spectacular tosses from the middle of the court. In the last three minutes of the game Angley began his long range barrage and flipped three from back court.

Borne and Miller played good ball for the losers on the offense and Braunstein was a whiz on the defense.

Morehouse Beats Two Foes in Day

The strong basketball team of Morehouse university won a pair of games Wednesday afternoon in its gymnasium, defeating Clatsand university, of Orangeburg, S. C., 41-26, in the first tilt and winning from the University of Brunswick, 26-22, in the second.

Crawford, Morehouse, lead the scoring with 14 in the first game, which was featured by the fast passing of both outfits. Morehouse started its substitute team in the second game but was forced to send in the first string to win.

Morehouse will face a tough opponent tonight in its gym when Fisk university, of Nashville, one of the strongest teams in the south, is played at 8:30 o'clock.

Impatient of Slips.

It is easy to realize that these coaches drill their elevens to the point where they function as highly skillful machines are impatient of the personal equation, which means the slipping of a cog. But the lesson of team work is important, any sport is useless which does not also develop individual initiative and excellence.

So it will be well for any rules committee to set its face against too much legislation; to refuse to mechanize football to the robot stage, and to prevent its being wired and refined so that it will come to resemble one of those ships run by radio from the shore.

Football is a good game right now.

Few Football Rule Changes Will Be Made

Grid Committee Will Hold Annual Session Soon; Game To Be Standardized.

BY WALTER TRUMBULL.

(Copyright, 1929, by The North American Newspaper Alliance.)

New York, Jan. 30.—(Special.) Within the next few weeks the football rules committee will select its playing field and hold its annual session. To be accurate, the gridiron so-called never pick a field for their conference. They prefer a golf course with its adjacent clubhouse.

It does not appear likely that many rules will be changed, even if the coaches who sit with the committee desire it. There is a feeling that football is now an old enough game to be having a new set of rules for each season is becoming a bit ridiculous.

Reduction of Injuries.

Any change which reduced injuries naturally would be welcomed, but the result of a change would be as safe as for the contestants as possible in any strenuous sport. Occasionally, a man is badly hurt, but the great majority of football injuries today are of a minor nature.

Many of these injuries can be laid to the rules. They are rather the result of a coach or a trainer permitting a boy to play when the safe and conservative thing to do is to keep him on the bench until he has completely recovered from some bruise or strain. Often the boy either is afraid to say that he still feels out of shape, or for fear of being thought of as a coward, or he is so eager to win and hold his place on the team that he conceals his real condition.

Great Temptation.

And to the coach whose job depends upon winning, to one who has a temper which ill brooks defeat, it is a great temptation to take a chance on a star player or one who may make the difference between defeat and victory. I have heard coaches say: "I had to send him out there on a bad ankle, but I had to use him. I hadn't anybody else."

In that case it would be considerably better to unwrap the corkscrew from some one able-bodied, under the trainer's hand, thus giving a sound man a chance to die for his alma mater.

The average college boy has put less than a third of his life behind him. To travel the other two-thirds on a bad ankle or weak knee is too much to pay for one football game. This reform is outside the rule book.

The coaches, doubtless, will wish a fumbled ball declared dead at the point of recovery. This they think will be a popular in-year pass law, and they will be sure to secure for the better team. But many believe that the very thing which has made football so popular in years past—its roughness—will be a chance to win.

In the Old Days.

In the old days of close formations and push-and-pull, a small elevation had practically no chance with the team of a large university. Big colleges used to go through successive seasons without a defeat. But this is the only question in any except the big games was the size of the score. The opening up of the game gave the little fellows a chance. The small colleges were something aside from a punching bag. Football drama grew tremendously more thrilling because of the addition of the element of suspense. Humanity loves the long shot, and now there is a chance for the outsider to come through.

Make football too mathematical and certain victory from it the element of chance, and you are taking a step backward. Nor will it ever, while human emotions exist, be a popular move to muzzle the underdog. Moreover it does not seem likely to improve any game to remove all penalty from manual errors. To learn to handle the ball always has been and always should be a fundamental of football.

Impatient of Slips.

It is easy to realize that these coaches drill their elevens to the point where they function as highly skillful machines are impatient of the personal equation, which means the slipping of a cog. But the lesson of team work is important, any sport is useless which does not also develop individual initiative and excellence.

So it will be well for any rules committee to set its face against too much legislation; to refuse to mechanize football to the robot stage, and to prevent its being wired and refined so that it will come to resemble one of those ships run by radio from the shore.

Football is a good game right now.

Chambers Made Trainer At Tech

Mike Chambers, formerly connected with Ohio State university, has been appointed full-time trainer at Georgia Tech, it was announced Wednesday.

Chambers was a trainer with the 1928 Olympic team and also had an enviable record at Ohio State. He graduated from the University of Illinois. The appointment of Chambers will enable Hal Barron to devote his full time to coaching track.

TECH SELECTS SOUSA PLAYER AS BANDLEADER

A. J. Garing, a member of John Phillip Sauso's famous band for 16 years, yesterday was selected bandleader at Georgia Tech to succeed Frank (Wop) Roman, who died recently.

Mr. Garing was also musical director of the New York Hippodrome for eight years.

The new director of the famous "Rambling Wreck" organization comes to Atlanta from Greenville, S. C., where he has been in charge of the musical organizations of Hejaz Temple Shrine, 327th Infantry, Furman university, and at one time or another as many as six other musical organizations in that city. Mr. Garing is to arrive in Atlanta from Greenville February 1 to take immediate charge of the band and other musical organizations at Tech.

Prior to his connections at Greenville, Georgia Tech's new director was formerly associated with Pryor and his band, "Pinner's band," Webster band, Conway and his band, Seventh Regiment band, of New York city, and many other bands throughout the United States and Canada. He was also formerly the musical director of the Stewart Shows, Louis Armstrong company, Delamater Attractions, Cambria theater, Broadway theater, of Greenville, S. C.

Mr. Garing plays the violin, viola, cello, string bass, tenor banjo, guitar, long Island City and Carolina theater, of Greenville, S. C.

Mr. Garing plays the violin, viola, cello, string bass, tenor banjo, guitar, mandolin, mandolin banjo, Hawaiian guitar, ukulele, ukulele banjo, piccolo, flute, clarinet, saxophone, trumpet, alto, French horn, trombone, euphonium or baritone, Sonaphone, or tubaphone, tympani and drums.

An All-Round Musician.

Andy Blair, of the Maple Leafs, Toronto's hockey team, was a junior tennis champion, a rugby player, a note, a golfer and a 100-yard man in track. At other times he played baseball.

Norman Maxwell Wins Way Into Semi-Finals

Inchurn, N. C., January 30.—(AP) Norman Maxwell, Aronimuk Country club, of Philadelphia, player, medalist, won his way into the semi-finals of the twenty-fifth annual St. Vrain golf tournament of Pinehurst Country club today when he turned down A. L. Sands, Newport, R. I., in the championship division matches 2 and 1 after a close battle.

Boys' To Play Clemson Rats Friday Night

Tech High will be in Chattanooga for a game Friday night with McCallie institute and another contest Saturday night with Central High of Chattanooga.

The Boys' High basketball team will journey to Clemson, S. C., Friday for game with the Clemson freshmen at night, according to announcement last night by Paul Rosser, athletic director at Boys' High.

Tech High will be in Chattanooga for a game Friday night with McCallie institute and another contest Saturday night with Central High of Chattanooga.

The postponed game between the two city schools will probably be played the first of next week, Mr. Rosser said. The Purple and Smokey have not met defeat in city prep circles this year and are favored to meet in the finals of the city tournament to be held February 11, 12 and 18. Both teams have victories over the strong G. M. A. Cadets, Tech High, which has won 28 to 32, and Boys' High, which has won 33 to 31.

Coach Johnson, of Boys' High, will leave Friday with eight players. Coach Tolbert, of the Smithies, will take a larger squad with him for the week-end games.

Meanwhile, Friday afternoon University School for Boys will tackle Marietta college in the city race and Marietta will play at Decatur.

The Purple and Smokey have shown a powerful defense all season, is being highly regarded by local fans as a result of its tenacious battle against the Smithies Tuesday. Tech High won 27 to 25, in a furiously-fought battle, in which the long-shooting Purple found Decatur guards about him and was able to ring but a few of his famous tosses.

Commercial High does not play in the week-end. The Purple and Smokey will play on Tuesday, Feb. 27 to 24.

TARZAN OF THE APES No. 22

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Tarzan always kept his grass rope lasso in readiness when journeying through the forest, catching many small animals. At last came the whom he sought—Sabor, the lioness. Nearer and nearer—where Tarzan of the Apes crouched on his limb, the coils of his long rope poised ready.

Like a thing of bronze sat Tarzan. Sabor passed beneath. Three strides she took. Then the silent coil shot out and settled about her neck. With a quick jerk Tarzan snapped the rope tight about the glossy neck. She made a bound and fell upon her neck! Sabor was trapped.

But Sabor had now found that it was only a slender cord that held her, and, grasping it in her huge jaws, she severed it! Tarzan was much hurt. His well-laid plan had come to naught. Sabor paced back and forth beneath the tree for hours, often springing at him.

Tarzan mocked and danced above her, hurling twigs and branches at her, unprotected face. At last he tired of the sport. With a parting roar of challenge and a well-aimed ripe fruit that spread over her face, he swung rapidly through the trees a hundred feet above the ground.

In a short time he was among the members of his tribe. And here he recounted the details of his adventure, with swelling chest and so considerable a danger that he impressed even his bitterest enemies, while Kala fairly danced for joy and pride at her foster-son's bravery and prowess.

Interest Rate Cut
Almost 1-3

Our New Rate Is
2 1/2% a month

What This Means To You:
On loans payable in 20 monthly payments
You Save:

$400 loan—your cost $420
100 loan—your cost 1050
200 loan—your cost 2100
300 loan—your cost 3150
You save proportionally on other amounts.
You get the money without delay, and pay only 2 1/2% under our monthly, small-payment plan—at your convenience. Every dollar you pay on the principal reduces the interest.
Act quickly if you need money. Take advantage of this unusual rate reduction. No endorser, no publicity—all dealings are held in the strictest confidence. No one will know.
We operate under State Supervision.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

BY MARCH 25, 1909, FRESH TROOPS FROM THE "STATES" HAD REPLACED THOSE OF GEN. MACARTHUR IN THE TRENCHES AT CALOOCAN, AND MACARTHUR AND HIS MEN BEGAN A DETERMINED ADVANCE NORTHWARD ALONG THE LINE OF THE MANILA-DAGUPAN RAILWAY, WITH MALOLOS, THE CAPITAL OF THE FILIPINO INSURGENTS, AS THEIR GOAL.

THE SAME DAY, THE BRIGADES OF GENERALS HALE AND H. G. OTIS (OF MACARTHUR'S DIVISION), DROVE THE REBELS FROM THEIR WORKS BEFORE CALOOCAN, FORDED THE TULAJAN RIVER UNDER A HEAVY FIRE AND, WHEELING TO THE LEFT, TRIED TO PIN THE INSURGENT ARMY AGAINST THE SHORE OF MANILA BAY NORTH OF MALABON.

IN THE MEANTIME, WHEATON'S SEPARATE BRIGADE (THE 22ND U. S. INFANTRY AND 2ND REGIMENT), ADVANCED NORTH ALONG THE RAILWAY, DRIVING THE FILIPINOS BEFORE THEM. THE FOLLOWING DAY THE AMERICANS ATTACKED THE TOWN OF MALINTA, A FEW MILES NORTH OF CALOOCAN.

THE FILIPINOS FLED BEFORE THE ONSLAUGHT OF THE AMERICANS. MALABON, CUT OFF BY THE RAPID ADVANCE OF OUR FORCES, WAS BURNED AND ABANDONED BY THE INSURGENTS, AND THE TOWNS OF MALINTA AND MEYUGAYAN SHARED A LIKE FATE.
